Next Annual Synod May Go To Hollywood

COMMITTEE TO REACH DECISION

Every Indication Invitation To Be Accepted; Report On Church Work

The morning business session of the synod of California, held in the main auditorium of the Glendale Presbyterian church, was taken up with the reading of reports on prison work, Near East relief, synod field council, San Francisco Theological seminary, and trustees of the synod.

The First Presbyterian church of Hollywood is being suggested as the meeting place for the 1925 synod meeting. Moderator Briegleb will name a committee on place of next meeting at a special session to be held this afternoon, and this committee will report to the conference their recommendations before the final session on Thursday morning.

The synod field council report, read by Vice Chairman Jed W. Burns in the absence of Chairman R. C. Johnson, who has been unable to attend the synod on account of illness, outlined the program and organization plans for the coming year. Moderator G. S. Briegleb of the synod of California, will appoint a committee of fifty ministers and elders to assist in the organization work.

Discussion Results

Considerable discussion followed the recommendation that churches throughout the synod contribute one half of one per cent from their benevolence fund for the expenses of committees and council work. It was pointed out that the state would not be officially represented on the general council, and some were averse to naming men to represent the state federation who would not have any official duties.

The prison work committee was read by Vincent J. Steffan, now in charge of prison work for the synod of California. Mr. Steffan pointed out that as prison chaplain for the synod he had been seriously handicapped by the lack of funds, as there were none provided. Dr. Lapsey A. McAfee, former moderator of the synod of California, offered a resolution asking the board of national missions to name a sub-committee for prison work and to devise a plan for raising needed funds.

Talks With Slayers

In giving his report, Mr. Steffan said he has been working at the Los Angeles county jail for the past four months, where he has been in close contact with the

BRAZIL'S REVOLT NEARS COLLAPSE

Rebels Evacuate Sao Paulo; Federal Troops Enter City In Triumph

BULLETIN

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 28.—Brazilian rebel forces at Sao Paulo have capitulated Sedan, according to official communiques issued this afternoon.

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 28.—The rebel army has evacuated Sao Paulo and the government troops have taken possession of the city, according to reports today from Sao Paulo.

The rebels deserted the city during the night and marched toward Campinas, a small town about 100 miles west of Sao Paulo, where they made another stand.

Revolt Collapses

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Virtual collapse of the revolution in Brazil was indicated in dispatches received by the state department today which quoted the admiral in command of the federal forces at Sao Paulo, as announcing the withdrawal from that city of the revolutionary forces. Celebration of the federal victory has already begun, it was reported.

BUSINESS IN MID WEST IMPROVES

Big Crops and Better Prices Help Farmers, Merchants, Says R. F. Kitterman

Big crops in the middle west, with decided financial improvement, is the forecast of R. F. Kitterman, 311 North Kenwood street, vice president and manager of the Glendale branch, Security Trust & Savings Bank. Mr. Kitterman returned Saturday from a combined business and pleasure trip through eastern Nebraska, southwestern Minnesota, Iowa and South Dakota. He left Glendale July 2.

The farmers' one anxiety now is to get in their crops before frost comes, as in many vicinities corn and wheat are three weeks late. Mr. Kitterman denies that the middle west has suffered from too much rain, as some reports have stated.

Optimism Prevails

With better prices prevailing and the prospect of big crops, a feeling of optimism is sweeping over the middle west, he states. This change from the adversity of the past four years has put new life in the farmers, and bankers and business men have benefited by the favorable reaction.

The farm lands turned over at exorbitant figures during the inflation period of the war have largely been "written off" and the baleful effect of the forced deflation is now passing. Mr. Kitterman believes it will take two more years for the middle west to get clear of debt but feels that the present season will go a long way toward straightening things out.

Hears Wild Stories

Everywhere he experienced a strong anti-California propaganda. Wild stories are in circulation that there are bread lines in Los Angeles and that unemployment is general. While this propaganda will undoubtedly prevent many people without funds from coming here, he feels that it will have exactly the opposite reaction on shrewd investors, making them aware of an exceptional opportunity to put their capital to work.

As for the tourists, Mr. Kitterman feels that California, and particularly Southern California, will continue to draw them in increasing numbers, the unequaled climate, the many excellent roads, the fine hotels, golf clubs and mountain and beach resorts combining to offer something that cannot be had elsewhere in the world.

Mr. Kitterman visited in Luverne, Minn., where he used to live; in Pipestone, Minn., where he stopped with a brother, James Kitterman; and at Stanton, Neb., where he spent some time with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Burner, his wife's brother-in-law and sister,

Two Chinese Giants Seeking Admission To United States

PEKING, China, July 28.—Two Chinese giants, one eight feet tall and the other seven feet, three inches, will guard the gates of a New York theatrical enterprise if the department of immigration passes favorably upon a request cabled from Peking for their admission to the United States.

The two giants now have jobs as gate tenders at the Peking zoological gardens, and, should they be permitted to enter the United States, their journey will be reminiscent of the occason when the Chinese emperor sent two giants as a present to the czar of Russia, and the latter returned them with thanks, not knowing what to do with them.

PREDICTS WHEAT WILL REACH $2

Grain Prices Have Only Started to Climb, Says James A. Patten

BULLETIN

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 28.—Eighteen miles of loaded wheat cars, a new record, rolled into Kansas City today while prices for that crop held closely to the record marks. The receipts today were 1872 cars, exceeding the former record of July 25, 1921, by 339 cars.

Corn set new high marks in the grain pit today, September jumping 2½c to $1.02¼; December, 2⅞c to 93¼c, and May, 4½c to 95c a bushel.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Grain prices have only started to climb, in the opinion of James A. Patten, noted millionaire Board of Trade expert. In an exclusive interview with the International News Service, this veteran of many campaigns of future grain buying declared today that he believes wheat will go to $2, corn to $1.25 or $1.50 and oats to at least 60 or 65 cents.

Sees Huge Profits

If these prices are reached it will put at least another billion dollars of profits into the pockets of those who have been fortunate enough to get and hold onto supplies of the grains. The sensational bulges of the last two weeks, it is estimated, already have added nearly $2,000,000,000 in unexpected profits to the few holders of grains and especially wheat. There are today very few who have wheat.

Patten believes the high prices yet to come will hold until the farmers have sold the coming harvest.

His young wife witnessed the crash. Mulford was substituting for Pilot N. B. Slater, who was injured at San Luis Obispo July 4.

Alienists for Defense Give Report on Investigation Of Leopold, Loeb

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, July 28.—"Mostly piffle!" This was the curt comment of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe today, on the report of the alienists for the defense, who will try to save "Babe" Leopold and "Dicky" Loeb from going to the scaffold for the murder of little Bobby Franks.

By GEO. R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Legally they are sane. Pathologically they are queer. Morally they are twisted. Mentally they are advanced, but their fine intellects are distorted and crooked.

This, it was revealed today, is the verdict of the defense alienists, the men of science, after exhaustive and minute examinations into the lives, characters and habits of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and "Dicky" Loeb, the 19-year-old youths who kidnaped little Bobby Franks and then bashed his head in with a cold chisel just for the adventurous thrill of the thing.

Searching Inquiry

These conclusions were reached after weeks of prodding and punching the blase young students, after innumerable X-rays of their bodies, after scientific analysis of their minds, their emotions; after investigation of their glands and their muscles, and after a searching study of their careers.

Ignoring and somewhat contemptuous of the preliminary report of the defense alienists, the state went methodically ahead today in the court room of Justice John R. Caverly, building, even higher, the mountain of evidence upon which it hopes to send the young collegians to the scaffold for murder.

REPARATIONS FOR KILLING DIPLOMAT, DEMAND

Battleship Will Be Sent As Indication Nation Is Ready to Act

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—"Withdrawal of American diplomatic representatives from Persia unless that government makes adequate and prompt reparations because of the killing of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie, at Teheran, was threatened today by the United States government in one of the most blunt and outspoken notes that has ever been issued by the state department.

The maintenance of diplomatic relations between Persia and the United States, said the American note, are dependent upon the according of "adequate protection to their respective nationals and to their official representatives."

The note was handed to the Persian authorities at Teheran by Joseph Saul Kornfeld, the American minister, and Consul Imbrie's immediate superior.

Payment of reparations to Mrs. Imbrie, widow of the vice-consul, and the paying of the expenses of sending a United States battleship to Persia to bring back Imbrie's body to this country for burial were demanded of the Persian government in the note.

Depends On Action

"The government feels," the note declared, "that the continuance of its diplomatic and consular representation in Persia will be dependent upon the action which the Persian government may take in this case to vindicate this fundamental principle of international law and this foundation upon which international intercourse is predicated."

(The reference is to mutual guarantees of protection to the nationals of the other countries.)

This government, it was stated by Minister Kornfeld, "awaits such action to supplement the steps already taken by the Per-

LODGE SERIOUSLY ILL IN HOSPITAL

Senate Leader's Condition Critical as Surgeons Perform Operation

BOSTON, July 28.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, one of the best known men in American public life, is in serious condition today in the Charles Gates hospital following an emergency operation for bladder trouble. Nothing much can be told for another twenty-four or forty-eight hours.

Later in the forenoon, attending physicians were quite optimistic. Lodge ate a good breakfast, which was followed by the inevitable cigar. Physicians said they expected to operate again in about two weeks. Senator Lodge is 74 years old and attending physicians fear this may retard recovery.

Name 'Other Woman' In Millionaire Divorce

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Edna M. Hennessey, through her attorneys, Haas and Dunnigan, filed a divorce action today, involving the Hennessey millions, when she asked for a property settlement and separation from Thomas M. Hennessey. The couple were married in Santa Ana, October 28, 1914.

For the last four years, according to the complaint, Hennessey has been enamored of Bertha M. Ross and it is alleged she accompanied him on trips to New York and elsewhere. She is the divorced wife of Albert G. Ross.

In addition to $1000 monthly alimony, Mrs. Hennessey lists community property estimated at more than $12,000,000 to be divided.

American Legion Coliseum Investment Totals $300,000; July Permits Beat 1923

A building permit for $120,000 was taken out this morning by the Glendale Amusement company, for the erection of the Glendale Legion coliseum at the northwest corner of Central avenue and Los Feliz road, on a group of lots recently bought by the company for $150,000. The total investment, including $30,000 for seats and furnishings, will come to $300,000, states Benjamin B. Unger, manager of the company. It will seat 8000 people.

This $120,000 permit brings the total for July to $590,721, or $25,685 more than the $565,036 issued during the whole of July, 1923, according to H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent. With three more days yet to run, the figure for the present month should establish a record not exceeding that of any other city in the state.

Ground will be broken on the coliseum within three weeks, Mr. Unger states. The site extends from Los Feliz Road to Cypress street, along Central avenue, and from Central avenue nearly to San Fernando Road, along Los An-Feliz Road. The structure will be the largest of its kind in the state, and will be so equipped with exits that the entire 8000 people it accommodates can be cleared from the hall in three minutes.

The builders plan this large edifice not only as a headquarters for American Legion activities but as a suitable place to hold conventions and other large gatherings. The permit taken out this morning includes ten stores along the Los Feliz Road frontage. If these stores meet a popular demand, additional stores will be built along the Central avenue frontage, Mr. Unger states.

The coliseum will be equipped with up to date heating and ventilating plants and will be modern in every respect, containing every appliance connected with a first-class boxing ring. An orchestra pit will be suspended from the balcony. Many other unique features are provided in the plans approved this morning by the building department.

COMMENT That's All

The Folly Of Fear
Highways Are Safe
Need For Big Men
Try Home Talent

By Gil A. Cowan

Fear is said to be man's greatest enemy. Editorial writers have written columns on the subject in an effort to overcome idle fancies which lead to early death. Psychologists have struggled with the problems presented by fear and churches both use and disabuse the mind on the subject.

Fear of death, fear of robbery, fear of Indians, fear of anything in general, usually begins when the child is cautioned, or rather scared, into doing that which is right by equally fearful parents.

It was the writer's pleasure last night to disillusion a Glendale youth about that section of Los Angeles lying east of Main street. He expressed the fear that he would be held up and robbed, or kidnaped, or something, if he ventured any farther east than Los Angeles street.

Imagine it, if you can, and you will appreciate just how far people allow fear to conquer their better senses.

Why, a visitor expressed fear to visit Chinatown in daylight, much less at night.

And we would like to know where there is a safer place in the city of Los Angeles?

There is nothing to fear any place if you have business — and mind it. The person looking for trouble usually finds it. And there is no need for any person hoping to find trouble, because it comes all too soon, anyway.

You may walk in practically any section of Los Angeles safely alone. The fact that someone is robbed or slugged nightly is no good reason why you should fear any particular street, because thieves, like lightning, seldom strike in the same place twice.

As far as that section east of Main street is concerned it is the most quiet and peaceable we know. And Chinatown in Los Angeles boasts of no dens of iniquity, although if you looked closely enough a gambling game might be revealed behind barred doors.

So forget your fears as soon as you possibly can.

A Los Angeles newspaper is crying aloud for big men to take charge of the city's affairs. In daily editorials the present city officials and their shortcomings are "panned."

Now there isn't any doubt but what Los Angeles and other western cities are mismanaged and officials corrupted and departments honeycombed and undermined with graft. That is to be expected.

Where the newspaper and the critics of any administration fail in correcting conditions, in the writer's belief, is the voicing of a policy that—

Old and experienced men of affairs, who have made their reputations ELSEWHERE, should be elevated to high office in Los Angeles.

Even a child could see the fallacy of this attitude because it immediately deadens all ambition on the part of faithful and efficient employes who should be trained and elevated to the high positions.

Just an instance as to how effectively a Los Angeles man can run a department is seen in the city attorney's office with Jesse E. Stephens at its head. And the police department may now be saved from a complete wreck by Chief R. Lee Heath after the "expert" Vollmer has climbed out from under.

Another demonstration of efficient work on the part of a man from the ranks is seen in the office of criminal department of the sheriff's office. R. H. Wright has borne out the judgment of Sheriff William I. Traeger.

If rejuvenation of civic affairs in Los Angeles or elsewhere is to be brought about, it will come from within.

Rather warm, but not uncomfortable in Glendale the first of the week. Perspiration is a healthy indication, anyway.

LONDON, July 28.—"This freedom" age of women is "the bunk," in the opinion of Mrs. Wintringham, one of the eight women members of the British House of Commons.

"The greatest calling for a woman," she declared, "was to be a home-maker."

WARN MERCHANTS OF CHECK FRAUD

Description of Two Alleged Bad Paper Artists Is Sent to Pilling

Frank H. Pilling, secretary of the Glendale Merchants' association, has been warned by a detective agency to be on the lookout for a couple who are said to have been floating a number of bad checks in Los Angeles.

The man and woman, who gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lane, are said to have opened a small account in a Los Angeles bank, and to have bought apparel in a number of Los Angeles stores, giving checks on the bank where their account was kept. Before the checks could be presented, however, they are said to have withdrawn their money and to have left town.

The letter states that the couple, enboldened by their success, may attempt to repeat the operation in other cities, and Glendale merchants are warned to be on guard against them.

The description given of the man says that he is about 34 years old, 5 feet 5 inches in height, slender, smooth shaven and well dressed. The woman is described as a blonde, stout, weighing about 160 pounds, 5 feet 5 inches in height, and wearing a large hat.

Hears Praise

FRANK SALMACIA, of the Glendale Music Company, who got back from San Francisco in time for the firm's formal opening.

Frank Salmacia, one of the partners in the Glendale Music Company, reached Glendale Saturday night from San Francisco in time to participate in the formal opening of the firm's new establishment at 118 South Brand boulevard and to enjoy hearing the felicitations that were showered on him and his associates by the friends they have made during their nine years of business in this city.

Mr. Salmacia was attending the convention of the Music Dealers' Association in San Francisco the greater part of last week, and he comes home with a number of new ideas not only for improved methods of merchandising, but also for cultivating a greater love of music in the minds of the people of his home city.

"The opportunities that are offered in Glendale," says Mr. Salmacia, "impress me as being much more favorable for the development of our business than those that I was able to see in any other place I visited during my absence."

Glendale Music Company's Opening In Own Building Attracts Several Thousand

The formal opening of the Glendale Music Company's new store at 118 South Brand boulevard drew a throng of over 3500 persons on Saturday night and also brought a shower of congratulations to Frank and Vincent Salmacia, the heads of the firm, from the people who have watched the firm grow, from the pioneer music store in Glendale during its nine years of existence, to its present proportions.

A profusion of flowers, the gift of well-wishers, decked the handsome reception room downstairs and added a touch of beauty that was commented on by the people who flocked to hear the program that was prepared for the occasion by M. Lightner and William Bode, officials of the company.

Pleasing Program

The Reynolds Hawaiian trio, composed of George and Gordon Reynolds, 719 North Central avenue, Glendale, and Leo Hye of Los Angeles, rendered a number of guitar selections that went well with the audience, and "Charley" Wellman and Bill Hatch, well-known radio performers, also presented several specialties, both vocal and instrumental. Louis Champeaux of Glendale whistled "Red Moon" in a pleasing manner.

Jacqueline Barton, Glendale's diminutive saxophone star, played "California, Here I Come" and "The World Is Waiting for Sunrise," and also sang a solo that had been specially written for her, "I'm Just a Doggone Dog." Ruth Pitts, soloist for the Gulbransen Registering Piano company, sang "Bowl of Roses," "Thank God for a Garden" and "Because," accompanied by the Gulbransen by John Martin. So perfect was the rendering of the accompaniments that those who heard these numbers were surprised to learn that a player piano was being used.

Resignation Of Secretary Sanders To Be Acted Upon By Directors Tuesday Night

The resignation of E. F. Sanders as secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce will be formally presented to the board of directors at the weekly meeting that is to be held Tuesday night, July 29, at the home of the president, W. E. Hewitt, 319 East Randolph street.

Mr. Sanders, who returned to his office here this morning after attending the summer school for commercial secretaries that was held last week at Stanford university, states that he will remain in Glendale until a successor has been chosen, pledging himself to render any aid in his power to enable the new secretary to become acquainted with the work of the office and with local conditions.

Receive Applications

No official action will be taken by the board of directors until the resignation of Mr. Sanders has been placed in its hands tomorrow night and accepted, but immediately after that the board will act on the applications that have already been received.

During the course of the summer school, says Mr. Sanders, the southern part of the state captured two trophies, one, a silver cup, going to George Bunton, secretary of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, in the oratorical contest, and the other going to the baseball team of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, to be held until next year, when it will be competed for again.

CANDIDATE FOR SUPERVISOR HERE

O. B. Manchester Visits City In Behalf of His Campaign Work

O. B. Manchester of Pasadena, candidate for supervisor in the Fifth district, which includes Glendale, was a visitor in this city this morning in the interests of his campaign.

Mr. Manchester, who is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, has lived in Los Angeles county thirty-seven years. During this time he has lived for sixteen years in the Fifth district.

For twenty-one years he has been in the county treasurer's office and for over fifteen years has filled the position of inheritance tax deputy.

Mr. Manchester states that, in his mind, in addition to looking to the needs of his own district, a supervisor should not overlook the great problem confronting the entire county, such as conservation of water, building of roads, bridges and dams; housing the poor, county hospital extensions.

"To accomplish these things and yet heed the growing demand for a lessening of the taxes, which are fast becoming a burden, is a real job," he declares.

H. V. Adams Addresses Methodist Church Class

H. V. Adams, who is to serve the Fellowship class of the First Methodist church as teacher, addressed the class yesterday on "Temptation." Mr. Adams has success as a chautauqua lecturer, and the class members and guests were interested in hearing him yesterday.

Mr. Adams said in part: "Terrific heat and tremendous pressure applied to carbon will make diamonds, great temptations if withstood will make great men. Only great men are greatly tempted. Small men fall to small temptations and are never greatly tempted. What sometimes seems to us as unbearable, when the load is apparently too heavy, reacts and strengthens."

On Saturday the class entertained the women's J. O. C. class at a picnic affair in Brookside park, Pasadena. There were over 150 present for this annual event.

Pacific Methodists to Have Church Addition

Work was begun today on the $3500 addition to the Sunday school room and social hall of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church at East Harvard street and South Pacific avenue. The addition will cover a ground space of twenty-four by forty-three feet and will provide much-needed room for church activities. According to the pastor, Rev. H. C. Mullen, the additional room will admit of doubling the present Sunday school membership. Funds for the building were secured in a recent successful campaign.

Accidents in the United States last year numbered 3,000,000, of which 23,000 were fatal and 115,000 caused permanent disability.

L. A. DISTRICT IS FOURTH ON LIST

Returns on Personal Income Taxes Puts Southland Among Leaders

Barring New York City and Chicago, Los Angeles led every city in the United States, excepting Philadelphia, in number of personal income returns filed in 1923. With the tremendous increase in returns filed in 1924, the city of Los Angeles will easily pass Philadelphia when figures are available for this year's filing, according to a report prepared by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, who is now en route to Washington.

In number of personal returns filed the city of Los Angeles had as many as Baltimore and Pittsburgh combined; almost as many as San Francisco, Portland and Seattle combined; more than Buffalo., Omaha, Indianapolis and Columbus combined and as many as Boston and Minneapolis combined or the combined aggregate of St. Louis and Cleveland.

"Increase in the number of personal income returns filed indicates not only growth in population, but a steady advance in the production of income," Collector Goodcell's report declared.

Returns of Cities

Here is a list of the principal cities in the United States showing the number of personal returns filed:

Philadelphia	142,395
Los Angeles	134,385
Detroit	127,780
Boston	94,961
St. Louis	82,170
San Francisco	78,210
Pittsburgh	72,375
Baltimore	63,570
Milwaukee	49,979
Buffalo	55,180
Cleveland	52,100
Cincinnati	47,345
Newark	46,374
Minneapolis	41,555
Portland, Ore.	39,976
Kansas City, Mo.	37,050
Seattle	36,845
Indianapolis	33,023
Dallas	23,641
Omaha	23,255
Prividence	21,272
Columbus	18,160

As evidence of the remarkable growth of Los Angeles' population as indicated by the number of income returns filed, Collector Goodcell referred to the fact that the 1920 census ranked Los Angeles as tenth in the list of cities in the United States having the largest population.

Auto Strikes Woman; Driver Keeps Going

Mrs. M. L. Smith of 435 South Pacific avenue was struck by an automobile on South Central avenue Saturday night. The car did not stop and the police have not yet located it. Mrs. Smith was rushed to the Glendale hospital by Paul E. Stillman of 530 North Kenwood street, who happened along just after the accident.

Dr. John D. Rogers made an examination and pronounced Mrs. Smith to be suffering from shock. She remained at the hospital over night, returning to her home yesterday.

Apffel, past exalted ruler of the Glendale Elks' lodge, who attended the recent grand lodge meeting in the East as official delegate, is home and will give a detailed report at the lodge meeting tonight in the clubhouse on East Colorado street. In addition to Mr. Apffel's report there will be balloting on candidates for membership, and musical entertainment.

Postoffice Force Takes Up Duties Smoothly In East Broadway Location

Starting the task of moving from the old location on West Broadway to the new quarters at 416 East Broadway at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, the postoffice staff was functioning smoothly at 10 o'clock, two hours after the transfer had been started, and when the doors of the new postoffice were thrown open this morning the entire machinery was running on schedule in all departments.

Captain D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster, flung the Stars and Stripes to the breeze over the new home of the department as the first official act today.

In making the move, every employe of the office was appointed to carry out some particular detail of the work, and the equipment of every department was set in its own place under the supervision of a special clerk detailed to supervise the task, according to a chart that had been prepared and circulated in the office preparatory to the change.

Phone System

One feature of the new office is the telephone system connecting all the departments, which is being installed as rapidly as a special crew from the telephone company can handle the work. Two trunk lines run into the office, and a special information department will be opened in the lobby, with the telephone system connecting it, for official use only, with all the other branches. Telephone booths for the convenience of patrons of the office will be erected in the lobby.

The installation of the thousand boxes is being rushed to completion, and, while many of these have already been taken, there are still a large number of them available for those who desire them, says Postmaster Jackson.

Three carriers who have been working as extras have been added to the list of regular carriers, and by October 1 it is planned by the postmaster to have a motor carrier service delivering mails and making collections in the Grand View district. The janitor force has also been increased to care properly for the present building, which is two and one-half times the size of the one just vacated.

Redistrict City

"The change to our present location," says Postmaster Jackson, "has imposed on us the necessity to redistrict the city to permit the carriers to deliver the mails and to cover their routes, but this will be working smoothly within a day or two and I am now working on a redistricting plan that will maintain the service at the highest possible efficiency."

Individual offices have been furnished for the postmaster, the assistant postmaster and the superintendent of mails.

It is pointed out that the entire number of fifteen windows will not be open all the time, but will be called into use as the business demands it.

Lewis A. Monroe of Los Angeles, the owner of the building, has co-operated to the fullest extent with the postoffice officials in making the new building all that it ought to be to give Glendale the most efficient postal service, and representatives of the department who have already inspected it have declared it to be among the finest leased postoffices in the United States.

Office Is Praised

The office is arranged, says Captain Jackson, to meet the demands of Glendale for a long period, and when this period is reached, it is planned to establish what is known as classified stations, where the various districts may be served without the necessity of sending all the mail through one central office.

Following the inspection of the Glendale postoffice on June 23, Postmaster Jackson has received a letter from John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general at Washington, D. C., complimenting him in the way in which the local office is being conducted. The letter, besides praising the administration of the office, speaks highly of the appearance and discipline of the force of employes, and its commendation has been a matter of pride to every man and woman employed in the Glendale postoffice.

LEADER'S LETTER TELLS PROGRESS

L. A. County Club Members Lead District, Writes Mrs. Chas. H. Toll

Stimulating the interest during the summer recess of clubwomen of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, is the June-July "letter" of Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, district president, to the 190 individual club presidents in the district.

Mrs. Toll's message to the clubs contains the startling report that eighty-two of the clubs in the district have increased their membership from 1 per cent to 414 per cent, thirty-three have neither gained nor lost, and fifty-one clubs showed a decided decrease in membership.

L. A. County Leads

She further states that Los Angeles county claims the major portion of the district's membership, with 32,000 clubwomen registered. Santa Barbara and Ventura counties each have nearly 1000 members, while Inyo and San Luis Obispo counties make a showing of 250 members each.

Supplementing Mrs. Toll's message are notices from chairmen of various departments of the district. There are twenty-three of them, all appeals for clubwomen to consider the different lines of endeavor. Glendale people will be particularly interested in the messages from Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, chairman of Indian Welfare, and from Mrs. R. W. Meeker, chairman of "Save the Redwoods," Mrs. Meeker's communication relays the invitation from Humboldt county's redwood memorial grove to vacationists to share its peaceful environment for restful vacation outings.

Nude Man Terrorizes Women; Eludes Police

The police are searching for a man who last night roamed the vicinity of Central and Arden avenues entirely unclad, lurking in the shadows and leaping at two women, according to hysterical reports that came in to headquarters over the telephone.

Detectives were rushed to the scene of the man's operations but were unable to locate him. A heavy guard will be placed on the district tonight, declared John D. Fraser, chief of police.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE AND THE CAMPAIGN

With a little more than half of his cabinet to assist him, President Coolidge appears far more engrossed in the affairs of government these days than in the details of the coming campaign. He is to "carry on" at the White House at a time when other presidents generally have left Washington far behind to seek recreation in cooler climes.

There is absolutely no indication as yet, that Mr. Coolidge is going to take an active part in the campaign, as was at first supposed. Perhaps the death of his son might have something to do with his present state of mind, but there are friends of the chief executive who say he has never believed a president should make a bitterly partisan fight for re-election.

Never of a robust physique, Mr. Coolidge gives his callers these days the impression of a tired man. The lines of his face seem a little deeper than they were a year ago. The weather in the capital during the past few days has been unusually warm, but the president, accustomed as he has been to the bracing atmosphere of New England, has uttered no word of complaint. There is a marvelous amount of grim determination in his wiry, if slight, physique, and the reserve strength of an unemotional disposition is serving him in good stead at this time. The White House physicians report the president in excellent physical condition as the campaign approaches, and make light of the appearance of fatigue which has caused some comment among White House visitors. The party managers say, as the campaign seems to be developing, there will be little occasion for any strenuous effort on the part of Mr. Coolidge. From what they have heard of Mr. Davis' plans, the G. O. P. leaders feel that Mr. Coolidge may "rest on his oars" for a large part of the time. They have heard, for instance, that the Democratic nominee will make taxation and economy in government two of the big issues of the campaign. The leaders say the Republicans already have accomplished a reduction in taxes and have put the most rigid economic plan into effect.

Mr. Coolidge realizes, of course, that the Democrats will attempt to claim full credit for the recent tax reduction because of his stand for the Mellon plan as against the legislation finally passed by Congress and approved by the executive. It will require a great deal of education—more, the Republicans say, than is possible in a two months' campaign—to enable the man in the street to differentiate between one tax plan and another. The important fact to the Republicans is that Secretary Mellon and President Coolidge recommended tax reduction and tax reduction was accomplished under the present administration.

The president still believes in the Mellon plan, and is prepared to defend it in such campaign speeches as he will feel called upon to make. Further, Mr. Coolidge intends to recommend the Mellon plan anew to the next Congress, regardless of what the results may be at the polls in November. The president will point to his own record and that of President Harding on all matters of government economy. So, if the Democrats are preparing to stress these issues, as the Republicans now profess to believe, the coming campaign may prove far more exciting and colorful.

The La Follette-Wheeler organization is expected to furnish about all the fireworks which may be exploded between now and election day, but it is the Republican plan to ignore this third ticket. That was the meaning of Chairman Butler's statement that the Republican campaign would be uniform in all sections of the country. There is to be no fight against the independents as such. The Republican scheme of campaign is wholly an affirmative one. The effort will be to keep President Coolidge "sold" to the American people.

Mr. Coolidge is quietly formulating his speech of acceptance to be delivered the evening of August 14. He has plenty of time and will not rush the manuscript. The president feels that this will be his one great contribution to the campaign. As a matter of fact, it is the only political speech for which he is scheduled at this time. It may be October before he speaks again, except for occasional short addresses by radio.

There is no disposition on the part of Chairman Butler or other leaders of the party to urge a more strenuous campaign on the part of the president. They are more than willing to consent to his wishes for as much seclusion in the White House as possible, and they believe Mr. Coolidge is a far more effective candidate sticking to the work of government than he would be flying from place to place about the country talking politics and thinking of politics only. Various state leaders are not of a mind on this subject, however. They naturally are desirous of having a visit from the president and nominee. There are factional difficulties in many states that make the outlook a bit dubious, and the local leaders believe a visit from Mr. Coolidge would do much good. The president, however, has no intention for going in for that form of campaigning.

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

The Olympic games were not revived, it is said, with the idea of establishing the athletic rank of the nations. The chief value of competitive sports is to promote what is known as good sportsmanship, and if these games are carried on in this spirit, as they undoubtedly have been, they must encourage international good feeling.

It makes little difference who wins or who loses. It is the spirit of the winner and the loser that counts. To be sure, the United States, and especially California, has been proud of the record made by her athletes in the international contests. The ability to win in anything undertaken is not to be disparaged.

It is a rather difficult matter, when you have put all your strength into the game and played fairly, and lost, to grasp your opponent's hand, tell him he is the best man and that you are glad he won. In the political game Hiram Johnson has found it so, as well as McAdoo, Al Smith and others. We admire the good loser because he is somewhat rare.

If the Olympian games can foster this spirit of good sportsmanship and promote international good will, they will be worth while.

Only a few of us are able to provide independency for old age. Insurance that provides an annuity in old age is, therefore, a good investment for most of us.

The ability to swim well is no longer an accomplishment but an obligation.

The Superiority Complex

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There has been a good deal said about the inferiority complex and it is doubtful whether it is not accountable for a good deal of the crime of passion and envy.

The murder of young Franks, however, in Chicago reveals the possibilities of the superiority complex held by his murderers.

Both Leopold and Loeb were bright scholars and all the evidence seems to be that thye considered themselves, particularly Leopold, as superior persons and far enough removed from the commonalty to regard them as merely subjects of exand all the evidence seems to be that they considably with birds, insects and lower animals and seems to have regarded himself as a mere superior bystander in the affairs of men.

"It was the kind of thing there would be a thrill in and we wanted some easy money," said Leopold. "We made a few mistakes. I should have picked up my glasses. I didn't know I dropped them. We thought that we had the whole thing air-tight, but it wasn't. That's all."

His companion in crime, Richard Loeb, has slowly slipped from his lofty pinnacle in the ethereal spaces of self-conceit. He is no longer the sure-footed, well-poised steeplejack, scaling the spires of a vagrant imagination and from them glancing downwards to laugh at the clumsy efforts of policemen bent on learning who kidnaped and killed Robert Franks. He seems to have lost his nerve and become jumpy.

The fact is that no one can separate himself from the human masses without perversion. No one can become the enemy of society without society taking its revenge upon him.

Each of the criminals accuses the other, but both are ready to acknowledge complicity in the crime.

Two things seem to have been the operating motives of these boys—two things that are common enough: Greed and the spirit of adventure. They were out for a prank and had come to regard the lives of their fellow human beings as of no account compared to their own amusement. And they thought they would make some easy money. Their case has broken down and their condition is pitiable. Even more pitiable is that of their relatives. Just as no man succeeds without carrying others up with him, so no man goes down without carrying others down with him. The sufferings of the families of the two boys must be great.

Their crime, however, was peculiarly atrocious. They slew a bright, innocent fellow in the heyday of his youth in an automobile in the midst of a heavily traveled street. First they hit him on the head with a chisel and aftrewards they insured his death by choking him with a gag. In addition to this they put acid on his face in an effort to disfigure him so that his identity would be destroyed.

There can be no excuse of poverty in their action, for both boys were sons of well-to-do parents and received from them a liberal allowance. Ransom and the adventure of crime were the motives for the deed.

In removing from its pale the two murderers, there should be no vengeance displayed by society, but only the desire to protect itself by the administration of strict justice.

Altogether it seems to be an instance of th superiority complex and of the unreliability of the intellect as a substitute for the natural instincts of mankind.

"It is as easy to justify such a death," said Leopold, "as it is to justify an entomologist for impaling a beetle on a pin."

Who's Who

An unfamiliar substance and a new personality have suddenly leaped into prominence together. The substance is fused quartz and the personality is Edward R. Berry, the engineer whose labors have at last made possible the production of this rare and valuable substance on a large commercial scale.

The boyhood home of Edward R. Berry was in Lynn, Mass., in the shadow of the "River Works," the General Electric company's plant in Lynn. After his elementary and secondary school education he gravitated naturally toward the "River Works," and worked there for two years. Then he realized his need for a higher scientific education if he was ever to forge upward and find a place for himself in the laboratory where the real, new things were going on.

He left his job and journeyed to the University of Maine. Four years later, in 1904, he graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Science. An additional three years of advanced study won him his degree of Master of Science, in 1907. Now he is known as "Dr."

Today's Poem

PARTING

Too fair, I may not call thee mine;
Too dear, I may not see
Those eyes with bridal beacons shine;
Yet, Darling, keep for me—
Empty and hushed, and safe apart,—
One little corner of thy heart.

Thou wilt be happy, dear! and bless
Thee: happy mayst thou be,
I would not make they pleasures less;
Yet, Darling, keep for me—
My life to light, my lot to leaven,
One little corner of thy Heaven.

Good-by, dear heart! I go to dwell
A weary way from thee;
Our first kiss is our last farewell;
Yet, Darling, keep for me—
Who wanders outside in the night
One little corner of thy light.

PREPAREDNESS

"So you have been married before Mrs. Smith?"

"Yus, ma'am, three times; and if it pleases 'eaven to take this one, I know where I can lay me 'ands on a fourth."

WHY NOT NICE AND WARM?

Mother—"That was very foolish, daughter dear, going riding with George after the dance. Weren't you cold?"

Daughter—"Yes, mother. Good, and cold."

CAUSE FOR WORRY

"I don't like your heart action," said the doctor, applying his stethoscope. "You've had some trouble with angina pectoris, haven't you?"

"You're partly right, Doc," answered George sheepishly, "only that ain't her name. It's Tillie."

The Ravings Of a Grouch

The Bible says that the meek shall inherit the earth, and I suppose it must be true, but I never knew just how to interpret the passage. It doesn't seem to work out that way at all in life. As for myself, I am proud of possessing a rather nice and desirable balance between lowliness and self-abasement on one hand and officiousness and presumptuousness on the other.

There is a difference, I think, in being properly meek and allowing oneself to be imposed upon, but some do not seem to know where to draw the line. Looking around me I see that those who are self-distrustful will never get very far, and if they are going to inherit the earth, it will be in some other age or sphere. A friend of mine is capable, apt and efficient, but he is afraid he will be considered presumptuous if he lets it be known, and he has never inherited anything and never will. When I was riding to work with him the other morning in his second-hand flivver he let a big limousine push him off the road. There was no meekness about the driver of the limousine, but he inherited a good share of the road and my lowly friend got the portion he didn't want. That is usually what the meek inherit, what no one else wants.

This fellow sits back and seems to think if he keeps on plodding, his reward will come sooner or later, but a fellow with gab and push as his chief assets soon has him in a corner where he is entirely forgotten by those who deal out the promotions.

The man or woman who is too self-assertive is extremely disagreeable, but he or she is the one who inherits the earth and pushes off the meek. Many a fellow, by self-advertising, hangs onto a job that a man twice as capable and twice as hard-working could not hold. If you do not blow your horn you will get run over in the race of life, and no one will stop long enough to pick up your remains.

I notice the meek person gets the hard jobs, the one who asserts himself gets the credit and the reward. The world mighty soon learns to know it if you are easy and may be imposed upon. The man with a gold brick is always looking for a sucker.

If you are among the meek and lowly ones of earth, you may derive some comfort from the promise. As for me, I do not intend to allow anyone to impose upon me.

Claim Open Mufflers Cause Serious Fires

SACRAMENTO, July 28.—Following a report to the division of motor vehicles by Deputy State Forester W. B. Rider that a number of serious fires have been traced to flying sparks generated by open mufflers, W. H. Marsh, chief of the motor vehicle department, has issued an appeal to motorists to refrain from the use of muffler cutouts while driving on roads paralleling grain fields or through the mountains.

The statement says in part: Explosions of the engine form sparks of red-hot carbon which may be deposited on inflammable material. Grass fires that spread to adjoining grain fields are known to have been caused in this manner.

Experience has shown that it is possible to operate an automobile successfully under every condition without the use of a cut-out. Motorists are therefore urged to refrain from its use until such time as the fire menace to California forests and fields has passed."

Past Moderator Of General Assembly Tells Of Three Things Church Requires

There are three things the church needs, Dr. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Chicago, past moderator of the general assembly, and noted author, told over 500 men who had gathered Saturday night for the men's banquet, held in the dining room of the Glendale Presbyterian church in connection with the annual synods of Arizona and California.

"Let us have, first, a primary purpose; second, a vital message, and third, a constructive future," Dr. Stone said. "Every preacher should preach each sermon as though it were to be his last, as though he were standing before a jury pleading for a verdict. Any preacher who is a lecturer, that is one who lectures instead of preaching from the pulpit, is not a real minister of the gospel. People today are laughing at the pulpit and at the church because preachers are trying to make progress in the face of lecturers. Put yourself into every message, make it vital. People who hear you will know when you do not, and you will pack your churches if you do. There is no fear in my mind for the future. Everything will turn out all right."

Urges Puritan Idea

Dr. Clarence Edward Macartney, moderator of the general assembly, spoke on the position of the Presbyterian church in the controversy over modernism and fundamentalism, and made an earnest plea for the observance of the Sabbath along the Puritan idea. He urged the preachers to give more attention to the work with the rank and file of the church.

Dr. Robert E. Speer, noted foreign missions authority, and secretary of the board of foreign missions, told of his work since he left college 33 years ago and entered foreign missions work. He has traveled to practically every country in the world in the interests of the Presbyterian church and spoke of conditions he found in many lands. He urged the preachers to have one fixed purpose and carry it out.

Dr. H. M. Campbell, secretary of the mountain and Pacific coast district on men's work, presided at the meeting. He introduced Dr. William C. Covert, of New York, secretary of the board of Christian Education, who acted as toastmaster.

Prominent Men Present

Among the notables at the speakers' table were Dr. Macartney, present moderator of the general assembly; Dr. Stone, past moderator; Rev. John Willis Baer of Pasadena, past moderator of the general assembly; Dr. G. A. Briegleb, of Los Angeles, moderator of the synod of California, and Rev. W. S. Sloan, moderator of the synod of Arizona.

Music was furnished during the dinner by the Wesley quartet of Los Angeles, negro jubilee singers. Members of the Women's Society of the church, aided by girls of the young people's class, served the dinner.

sian government. It cannot overemphasize the seriousness of the view which is taken of the present situation."

Body On Battleship

One of the battleships now in European or Asiatic waters will be sent to Persia to bring back Major Imbrie's body. The presence of this vessel in Persian waters, it was pointed out, will serve to make it clear to the Persian authorities that this government is prepared to go to any limit to enforce its demands on Persia and insure itself that there will be no repetition of the events leading up to the assassination of the vice-consul; the injury of a member of his party and subsequent insults to his widow.

The sending of a warship to Persia, it was said at the state department, could not be construed officially as a military gesture, but in unofficial quarters it was possible that the presence of a man-of-war flying the American flag in Persian waters would serve to convince the native authorities that this government was prepared to go the limit in enforcement of its demands.

REPORT ON HOME MISSIONS READY

Women Delegates to Synod Will Be Entertained At Reception

Glendale Presbyterian women and other women attending the synodical meetings in progress at the Glendale church are to enjoy two special events of import on tomorrow's program.

At 10:40 o'clock, at the church, there will be a report of the women's Synodical Society of Home Missions. Church women from near and far are expected to be in attendance at the morning meeting.

Then in the afternoon the women of the local church are to hold a reception from 3 till 5 o'clock at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse on North Central avenue at West Lexington drive. The clubhouse is to be attractively decorated with arrangements of white flowers and greenery.

Reception Committee

In the receiving line will be Mrs. W. E. Edmonds, wife of the pastor of the local church; Mrs. J. M. Eyerick, president of the women's organization of the local church; Mrs. Dirk Lay of Arizona, wife of the moderator of the Arizona synod; Mrs. Lapsley McAfee, wife of the retiring moderator of the California synod; Mrs. Gustav A. Briegleb, wife of the moderator-elect of the California synod.

During the reception hours there will be a program of musical numbers and dramatic sketches.

All women of the Glendale Presbyterian church and all visiting women attending the synod are cordially invited to visit the clubhouse during the afternoon.

ORDAIN TWO TO CHURCH MINISTRY

Young Pastors Are Charged With Duties In New Field By Ex-Moderator

Paul Leavens of Santa Paula, in the Santa Barbara presbytery, and Charles H. Ainley of the San Joaquin presbytery, were yesterday morning ordained as ministers in the Presbyterian church, at an impressive ceremony conducted at the close of the morning services of the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Rev. Lapsley A. McAfee, D. D., ex-moderator of the California synod, delivered the charge to the young men, stressing the fact that they have entered into a great fellowship of workers for Christ and for the advancement of the world; that they must maintain the high standards and the doctrines of the Presbyterian church; and that they must continue to grow mentally and spiritually in order that they may perform the duties they have been called on to do.

Both the newly ordained ministers have offered themselves for service in the foreign mission field.

Following the ordination service they were welcomed into the ministry by Rev. Clarence D. Macartney, D. D., moderator of the general assembly, and by Rev. Gustav A. Briegleb, D. D., the newly elected moderator of the California synod; Rev. Walter E. Edmonds, D. D., of the Glendale Presbyterian church, and other church leaders and members.

prisoners. He related a number of instances where he has talked with and converted men who are now waiting to be hanged for murder, some in this county and others in jails in various parts of the state. He said he had served three terms in penitentiaries, but was converted nearly nine years ago, and has spent the greater part of that time in evangelistic work for the Presbyterian church.

Short of Funds

Rev. H. J. La Fallotine, in charge of Near East relief work, said the relief board had been short of funds since the Smyrna disaster. The board expended over $3,000,000 in caring for children and refugees immediately following the action, he said, and a drive put on by the Red Cross to raise funds to wipe out this deficit brought in less than $600,000. The relief is chartered for fifteen years by Congress, he said, and has been working for the past five years. The work will be completed within the next five or six years, he said.

The first meeting of the special committee on the synodical college for Salt River valley, named Saturday by Moderator G. S. Sloan of Arizona synod, was held this morning at the church. Rev. Victor A. Rule of Phoenix was elected chairman of the committee, and Dr. Dirk Lay, former moderator of the synod of Arizona, was chosen secretary.

Proposed College

At the organization meeting of the committee, it was brought out that there has not been a new Presbyterian college established in the United States within the last forty years, and the proposed college for Salt River valley, which the members of the committee feel is assured, will be the first in that time.

Rev. G. W. Wadsworth addressed the Arizona synod today on the possibilities of the next synod meeting being held in Hollywood at the First Presbyterian church, and the Arizona delegates endorsed the plan. The report of the committee on Christian education was given by Rev. George Logie, chairman, and the report of the committee on the Charles H. Cook Bible school was given by Dr. H. C. Ellis, chairman. Dr. John McDowell addressed the synod on the board of national missions, and the report of the synod committee on national missions was read by Rev. V. A. Rule.

The synod's communion service is scheduled for 4:30 o'cock this afternoon in the main auditorium of the church. A number of elders from both synods will assist in the service.

Reunion Luncheon

Members of the family, trustees and alumni of the San Francisco Theological seminary, who are present at the synod, will attend a luncheon which will be in the form of a reunion, tomorrow noon at the Chateau, 108 East Broadway.

One of the chief recreational period attractions during the synod will be the baseball game scheduled for 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon between the ministers of the northern part of California, and the ministers of the southern part of California. The game will be played on the Harvard High school diamond, and will be preceded by a game between the California elders and the Arizona ministers, scheduled for 2 o'clock on the same diamond.

Rev. E. P. Cochrane, of San Francisco, is in charge of the ballgames, and also in charge of the tennis tournaments which will be staged on the courts at the Harvard High school grounds tomorrow afternoon. The golf finals will be played tomorrow afternoon at Fintridge, Annandale, Oakmont and Pasadena courses.

National Missions

A special meeting of the synod field council has been called for 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and a special meeting of the Sacramento presbytery has been called for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The address on national missions, scheduled for tomorrow night, will be given tonight by Dr. John McDowell, secretary of the board. Dr. McDowell will be unable to remain until tomorrow night, it was announced by Dr. William S. Young, stated clerk; and the change in the program was ordered. Dr. Henry B. Master, chairman of the board of ministerial relief, will speak tomorrow night instead of tonight, it was announced.

Postpone Movie Visit

Rev. Paul Elliott, in charge of the recreational periods of the synod, has announced that the visit to the movie studios and the museum at Exposition park, originally scheduled for this afternoon, has been postponed until tomorrow afternoon. Douglas McLean's father, who is a Presbyterian minister, is assisting in the arrangements.

The baseball game, scheduled for Saturday afternoon at the Occidental college between the ministers and young people, was not played. Following the luncheon at the college, as the guests of Remsen D. Bird, D.D., president of the college, the ministers were taken for a tour of the campus.

The afternoon was devoted to a meeting for young people at the college. Addresses were made by Dr. William C. Covert, secretary of the board of Christian education, and Dr. Robert E. Speers, secretary of the board of foreign missions.

Christianity Stands On Great Facts Of Gospel Says Rev. Dr. Macartney

"The great need of the Christian church today is to recover itself from the growing indifference as to those facts which gave us Christianity," declared Rev. Clarence Edward Macartney, D. D., moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, in his sermon Sunday morning at the Glendale Presbyterian church, where he was addressing the delegates to the synod of California and Arizona.

Taking his text from Acts 1:8, "Ye shall be witnesses unto me," Dr. Macartney spoke of the mission of the church of Christ on earth, declaring that where the church witnesses to other things than Christ it fails of its divinely appointed mission.

Two Things Remain

"The world has changed greatly since Christ gave it his message, but two things have never changed—the deep need of humanity and the remedy," said Dr. Macartney, "and Christ still remains the only hope of a sin-stricken world.

"There can be no Christianity which is not founded on granite fact. You cannot dissociate the Christian doctrines from the great historic facts upon which they are based. His holiness and sinlessness are not real to us unless His miraculous conception and birth are facts; His right to be our Redeemer is not established unless His victory over sin in His temptation is a fact; the forgiveness of our sins through faith in Him is not established unless it is fact that Christ not only died on the cross, but died as God's great sacrifice for sin, the sinner's substitute, that He might bring us to God.

"The first witnesses to Christ declared the facts and built their doctrines on the facts. They never took the position that even if some of the facts were found to be no facts, still there was a real and indestructible value remaining in Christianity. On the contrary, they would have said of all the great facts of Christ, what St. Paul said of one great fact, 'If Christ be not risen from the dead, then is our preaching vain and your faith also is vain.'

One Great Purpose

"Back of the New Testament lies that one great purpose—that men might be sure as to the facts.

"A church which nineteen hundred years after Christ came and died and rose again is not quite sure as to the facts, or hesitates to declare those facts to the world, lest they come into conflict with some favorite fact or principle or prejudice of the world, is a church whose voice will soon be drowned on the screaming hurricane of time."

Tribute to Edmonds

Before the beginning of Dr. Macartney's sermon, Rev. Gustav A. Briegleb, D. D., moderator of the California synod and pastor of the Westlake Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, paid a glowing tribute to Rev. Walter E. Edmonds, D. D., pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, for his constructive work in this city during the past thirteen years, not only in building up the local congregation to its present proportions and aiding in erecting the present place of worship, but for the unswerving adherence to the principles of the church, which he has preached constantly in Glendale.

Dr. Edmonds then introduced Dr. Macartney, who delivered his first moderatorial address to any official Presbyterian body since his election as moderator of the General Assembly at Grand Rapids, Mich., last May.

Four Die When Plane Falls on First Run

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Four persons are dead here today, victims of an airplane plunge. The dead are: O. S. Belcher, 30, designer of the "California," new type airplane; Esther Belcher, 24, his wife; O. T. Belcher, jr., 8, a son; Burgess Creeth, 30, pilot.

The plane, the result of four years of study and work by Belcher, crashed to earth during its christening trip and its death dive was watched by more than 5,000 persons invited to witness the initial public flight. A defective cable was said to have caused the accident. The machine, a monoplane, was built entirely of wood.

BOULEVARD PLAN TOLD BACK EAST

Indianapolis Paper Carries Fourth Street Highway Plans In Story

The construction of the highway to link Burbank, Glendale and Pasadena over the Fourth street route has been gaining widespread advertisement for the three cities, according to officials of the Fourth Street Improvement association, who have received clippings from the Indianapolis News, one of the leading papers of the middle west, telling of the project.

Members of the association are quick to point out that when people 2300 miles away show an interest in Glendale highways it should be the aim of everyone in the Southland to see that the right kind of roads are here for them when they come to visit California. The clipping from the Indianapolis News follows:

Highway Building

"BURBANK, Cal., July 19.—Burbank development and expansion bodies are busy as bees with definite plans for the early creation of a new Burbank-Glendale-Pasadena boulevard, designed to shorten the present indirect route and provide a scenic drive uniting the triple communities. In Burbank the street to be utilized in the plan of the proposed highway is Fourth street and on it all work has already been accomplished, with the exception of the portion of paving the Pacific Electric will do. Eastward of Burbank, rights of way are still to be secured through the Hanifan and Pelanconi vineyards, but at Glendale the steam shovels are already cutting their way through Scholl canyon in the construction of the road toward Pasadena. In this canyon there will be no grade in excess of 7 per cent."

Instead, one of the thieves in this case left behind a size 7 hat from Desmond's, Los Angeles.

DEFINE BOROUGH BOUNDARY LINES

Committee Announces Limits Of Eagle Rock; Ask Full Co-operation

EAGLE ROCK, July 28.—The boundary line of the "borough of Eagle Rock," as this community will be known under the new Los Angeles city charter, is announced by the committee from the local Chamber of Commerce working with the City Council.

This committee is composed of Messrs. J. C. Shedd, C. W. Young and A. S. Wilson, who, in their considerations, are being assisted by a committee from the Eagle Rock Realty board. The findings of the joint committee will influence the council, and the committee is anxious to secure the co-operation and meet the desires of all the people resident within the territory sought to be included.

The boundary will take the Glendale line for the west of Eagle Rock down to San Fernando road, then roughly southeast to Fletcher avenue and the river at the old boundary of Los Angeles, following to the slopes of Mt. Washington and on the west and north of these approximately to Avenue Forty-Nine, north on Avenue Forty-Nine to the east boundary of Campus drive, along the east boundary of this to the top of the ridge and on to a point overlooking Sycamore canyon and on to the Pasadena line, and to the golf links and the power house, thence along the Glendale line back to the starting point west of Eagle Rock.

Eagle Rock friends of A. K. Tate of Maywood avenue will be pleased to know that Mr. Tate, who has been ill since January, has so far recovered as to be able to again go to his office. He is the proprietor of a printing establishment on Hope street, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Phinney of Fair Park avenue, have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Roose and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phinney from Topeka, Kan.

FIRE WARDEN TO ORGANIZE UNITS

Verdugo Hills District to Be Safeguarded From Flames In Brush

TUJUNGA, July 28.—Following his appointment as active commander of all the fire-fighting forces in the Verdugo hills, Deputy Fire Warden Leo L. Lang of Tujunga has begun the organization of his forces into a system whereby the welfare of the districts under his command can be safeguarded from disastrous brush and forest fires such as have ravaged other districts in the last few weeks.

Mr. Lang has issued a call for volunteer crew leaders who are familiar with the Verdugo hills and, more important, thoroughly familiar with fighting brush and forest fires.

The plan is to consolidate and co-ordinate all the forces that will be on call for fire-fighting, so that these forces may be effectively concentrated on any particular spot in an emergency. The fire wardens believe the most effective way of accomplishing this is to appoint crew leaders to direct men in every section of the territory.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, July 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hingston and family are home again after an auto tour up the coast. They spent a few days at Pismo Beach where the clams are plentiful, according to the travelers.

A birthday surprise party was the cause of much merriment at the H. A. Carpenter home on East Mayfield avenue. The guests arrived early in the evening bringing with them cakes and ices, surprising the honoree who was unaware of the party planned in his honor.

This is practically the first social affair Mr. Carpenter has been able to enjoy since his long illness and he accorded the following guests a hearty welcome: Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Carpenter and daughters Roella and Gertrude, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Carpenter and daughters Dorothy and Barbara, Harwood Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. G. Buchanan, all of Los Angeles. Mr. Carpenter was the recipient of many beautiful gifts from his family and friends.

Mrs. Virna Harman Walker, principal of the Walker School of Classic and Ballet Dancing, is the victim of an accident which resulted in a sprained ankle. Her mother, Mrs. Harmon, of Chicago, is with her at present and will carry out the new plans for the reorganizing of dance classes for the coming winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Angier and family are sojourning at Long Beach during the hot weather.

Daley Stores Absorb Grocery at Tujunga

TUJUNGA, July 28.—The Daley chain stores have absorbed the grocery store of G. B. Patterson and will incorporate his stock into the Daley grocery in Tujunga, according to an announcement just made. Mr. Patterson will continue in the meat market business, moving his shop from the present location on Michigan avenue to the Daley store on Sunset boulevard.

WORK STARTS ON SEWER CONTRACT

Installation Will Include Three Pumping Plants; Bond Is Posted

BURBANK, July 28.—Work on the sewer system started today, under contract with the Janes Contracting company of Los Angeles, E. B. Hendrickson supervising for them and City Engineer Rose supervising for this city. The contractors have posted a bond of $53,000 to guarantee the work.

The contracts provide for three pumping plants, one at Flower, one at Varney and one at Scott road, pipe ranging from eight to twenty-four inches to be used.

The work is quite extensive and will require considerable tearing up of the streets, but the contractors wish the public to know that they will do all in their power to minimize the inconvenience and in return ask the people to bear with them patiently. The work will be pushed with all possible speed and the streets put back to normal condition as soon as possible.

Back From Arrowhead

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnum have returned from a week's sojourn at Arrowhead lake, where they had a jolly good time. They were accompanied by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Silver of Santa Ana. "Barney" says that the fishing was not as good as it might have been, but they caught enough to keep them in touch with what fish tastes like.

Miss Helen Boyd of Sonora, granddaughter of Mrs. C. H. Pomeroy, who has been visiting here for a month, has returned north in company with Mrs. Naomi Wheeler, driving to Frisco in thirteen hours.

AWARD CONTRACT ON SCHOOL UNIT

Alhambra Builder Captures Job of Erecting New Tujunga Addition

TUJUNGA, July 28.—A contract has been let to Holly Carlton, Alhambra contractor, for the general construction work of building a two-room unit addition to the Tujunga grammar school. The bid made was $3480 and was $20 lower than the next nearest, which was $3500, made by Fred Anderson of Montrose.

Bidding on this unit of the new school developed not only keen competition, but a wide variance in estimates of building costs. The highest bid offered for the same work was $6849. These bids did not include the painting, plumbing, electrical work, or finishing the basement story.

The trustees are considering the advisability of building still another unit of two rooms to keep pace with the increasing school attendance. From figures supplied by the records of the local water company it is estimated that at least one new family locates in Tujunga every day, and the present school accommodations must be enlarged to meet the increase, is the opinion of the trustees.

LITERARY JEWELS FILL 'BOOK-NOOK'

F. A. Estock's Store Has Variety of Volumes On All Subjects

Perhaps one of the busiest and most fascinating little shops in Glendale is the "Book-Nook," located at 102 South Maryland street and operated by F. A. Estock, whose interest and education along historical and literary lines have made the "Book-Nook" a rendezvous for all persons seeking knowledge upon any subject.

Here one finds books, ancient, medieval and modern. Works of masters, also martyrs—philosophers, classics, fiction, religion, metaphysics, psychology, history, geographical and even to the kiddies' books by the many authors on subjects which appeal to the curious child mind.

Chance for Collectors

The "Book-Nook" has both new and used books and many wonderful volumes can be acquired at a very nominal cost, as there are always those who are unable to appreciate a masterpiece or else their shelves become so filled that room must be made, and consequently many priceless literary gems are relegated to the "junk-counter" until extricated by some one who can appreciate their real merit.

Books, like people and precious stones, are often underrated and their real worth undetected until they have passed into another's hands and environment wherein dispossession seems to enhance the value.

The "Book-Nook" shelves are filled to the ceiling with works on every subject and should there be an inability to satisfy a need at this store Mr. Estock will take pleasure in procuring the desired volume.

All Should Cultivate Community Loyalty

Just as true patriotism and good citizenship fix the status of a country among the nations of the world so Community Loyalty determines the destiny of a city. If no one were true to Glendale there soon would be no city here. If every citizen were loyal to the full extent of his ability there would be no limit to the city's future growth.

There are many phases of Community Loyalty. Speaking a word for your home city at the psychological moment may bring good results in new residents, although the mere shouting of "Glendale" is no special mark of loyalty any more than waving the flag is a guarantee of patriotism.

Community Loyalty need not be confined to any organization or any set of citizens. It is a sentiment that should appeal to all. The mere fact that you live here should give you a certain pride in the city and make you anxious to further Glendale's every interest.

Community Loyalty pays in dollars and cents, too. For if you spend your money in Glendale (and you will if you are loyal) your dollars enrich Glendale and perhaps come back to you.

Glendale's business activity has become far-famed, so there is very little need to go out of the city to buy. Glendale merchants were quick to recognize the fact that the class of people being attracted here to make their homes would not be satisfied with anything less than the best in merchandise and service, and they are meeting the people more than half way in this regard.

Three years ago only the far-seeing could vision Glendale the city it is today. Community Loyalty expressed in dollars spent with the Glendale merchants will mean a city of such magnitude and importance three years hence as the most imaginative of us cannot dream.

EXPRESS YOUR COMMUNITY LOYALTY BY GIVING THE MERCHANTS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN AND WOMEN AND ALL THE WORKERS A CHANCE TO PROVE THAT THEY ARE UP-TO-DATE.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

MY PROMISES AND THEIR FULFILLMENT

When I ran my instructions on reducing, I made you the following promises if you would follow them:

1. Better health.
2. Increased efficiency and strength. One hundred fold.
3. Better dispositions. Fat people are not good natured! They are apathetic.
4. Better looks. Clearer skin. No matter how you look during the process, when you are reduced your looks will be improved. Five hundred fold. And you'll look younger, lots younger!
5. A reorganization of your habit of unnatural craving for mode of living. A cure of your large amounts of concentrated foods, with the creation of a new natural appetite for more wholesome foods.
6. A restoration of marital felicity. No one loves a fat man or woman.

We have had thousands of letters testifying that these promises have been fulfilled. The letter I am giving you today, shows that there are possibilities of spiritual as well as physical help, in getting rid of the excess mortal man. I know you will agree with me that the letter is a valuable contribution to our column. Here 'tis:

"Dear Doctor—My hat is off to you! You know your stuff! And, more than that, what more can be said to one professional 'man' by another?

"March 24, last, to my alarm, the scales showed that I weighed 175 net. I am 45 years old, 5 feet 7½ inches tall, which, according to your standard, would entitle me to 151—no more. I was alarmed, for I had been struggling against that increasing girth for years, each year registering a little more. There is a question painted on the wall of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in San Francisco that has been haunting me for years, to-wit: "WILL YOU BE FAT AT 40 OR FIT AT 50?" Not so bad, is it?

"I introduced a system of setting-up exercises ten minutes night and morning, a four-mile hike 7 to 8 o'clock each morning, ending with a few minutes in the outdoor gymnasium in our public park, and I feel like a man among men, sure enough.

"Now, as to the habit of eating: When I sit down to a real meal, which is about once in twenty-four or thirty-six hours, instead of the old time three-per, I eat about half of what is set before me, and get up satisfied, instead of eating everything in sight and hollering for more as of old. Funny, isn't it, what habit will do to one?

"By far the greatest benefit derived from my metamorphosis is that suggested on the cover of your little book: 'Spirituality' now predominates in my life over 'Materiality.' For the first time I am able to put my body under. Instead of being the means of satisfying the 'lusts of the flesh' my body is now 'the temple of the Holy Spirit.' Of course, I am not saying that merely the matter of dieting brought about all this wonderful transformation. On the contrary, I can see in it the Divine Love, and patience and guidance of the wonderful Heavenly Father, but the fact remains that the change came to me within this period, although I have been a professing Christian and active worker for thirty years. So we will not know until the books are opened how much good you are doing in the spiritual realm, as well as in the material.

"And now for results: Right now I experience the thrill that comes once in a life-time when I tip the scales at the exact standard—151 pounds net.

"YOUR PROMISES: They 'listen good,' Doctor, and you have made good in all of them that you possibly could. It isn't your fault that I tied into your system too late for you to make good on number six. Fraternally yours, W., D.D. S."

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a.s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Cook over mild heat till the boiling point is reached, then gradually add one-fourth cup of vinegar. Strain and cool before mixing with the cabbage. (Requested by Mrs. F. S.)

Beef Loaf—Buy one and one-half pounds of hamburg steak. Mix with this five-medium-sized peeled onions finely chopped, one teaspoon of salt, one beaten egg, a pinch of sage, one cup of dry breadcrumbs and one cupful of either canned or fresh stewed tomatoes. Mould into loaf form in a loafcake pan and bake for one hour in a medium oven. Serve hot or cold, sliced.

Prune Pudding—Wash and soak three-fourths of a pound of prunes for two hours. Put them in a saucepan with cold water to cover, bring to a boil, and let continue to cook until soft; by this time the water should be almost evaporated. Do not drain. Remove stems and cut the prunes in small pieces, sprinkle with three-fourths of a cup of granulated sugar, and fold into them the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs. Turn the mixture into a buttered pudding dish and bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve either hot or chilled. For a guest meal, top with whipped cream and sweetened double cream.

Common Ice Cream—(Requested by Mrs. W. who asks for "ice cream made without cream." This is really frozen custard, but popularly called plain ice cream.) Scald three cups of sweet milk in the double boiler. Now mix together the beaten yolks of two eggs, two tablespoons of dry cornstarch powder, a pinch of salt, and one-half cup of sugar. Add this egg mixture to the hot milk and stir steadily till it "coats a spoon." Remove it from fire at once or it will curdle (if overlooked.) Flavor with one-half teaspoon of vanilla and freeze in three parts of ice to one part of salt like any ice cream.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Grew Prohibited Weed In Yard, Is Alleged

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Charged with violating the state poison act, Edward Villagren, 27, San Pedro, is being held by harbor police on complaint of Officers Haecke and Starr that they found marihuana, a narcotic better known as Indian hemp, growing in the rear of Villagren's home.

Villagren's hearing was postponed following the man's assertion that the plant was not Indian hemp, but an herb of medicinal properties. An analysis of the weed is to be made before the charge is pressed.

Shrine Affair

A short business meeting and card games were combined in the meeting Saturday night of Omar Shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem, in the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard. The members were happy to greet Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts, supreme watchman of the shepherds, and worthy high priestess, who have just returned from a vacation outing at Newport Beach.

Following the Shrine meeting the company enjoyed card games in the banquet room down stairs. Streamers of yellow crepe paper were used effectively with fern and floral features. Omar Shrine, No. 9, was seen cleverly worked out with red candy hearts.

Orma Vesper Naudain was chairman of the card games at which prizes were awarded to E. Leora Foor, first; Mrs. Warren Roberts, second; Mrs. Sarah Carroll, third; James Wyvell, first; Catherine Delgardo, second; Warren Roberts, third.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Edith Coghlin and Mary Freeman.

Another card party is to be sponsored by the Shrine Saturday night, August 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coghlin at 425 West Hawthorne street. Score cards are to be sold for fifty cents.

Noted Author Marries Twice In 11 Months

SALINAS, Cal., July 28.—In what was described as the "simplest possible" sort of a ceremony, Gouverneur Morris, famous author, and Miss Ruth Wightman were married here today for the second time within eleven months.

The ceremony took place in the Spanish garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Zabala, Justice Davis Wallace reading the ceremony. The only witnesses were the bride's mother and Mr. Milton Cohen of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Zabala. A wedding luncheon at the Zabala home followed the ceremony. Miss Wightman was attired in a sport costume, having motored to Salinas with her author husband from their cottage at Monterey.

Morris and Miss Wightman were married last September, following a decree of divorce granted in Los Angeles, at Ensenada, Mexico. The ceremony today was to comply with the California law which prohibits marriage until the final decree is entered. This was done Saturday in Los Angeles.

A delayed honeymoon trip to Spain is planned by the couple, it was learned. They expect to depart on that trip early this fall.

Convicted Speeder Prefers Jail Cell

Walter F. Sydenham of 95 Sycamore Canyon road prefers a five-day sojourn in the county jail to paying a fine of $50 imposed by Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court, after a jury of twelve had returned a verdict of guilty.

Mr. Sydenham was arrested on July 17 for driving a delivery car thirty miles an hour in a twenty-mile zone. He denied he was going over the speed limit, but admitted he had no speedometer on his car. The jury was out only a short time. Judge Lowe is having the commitment papers made out that will permit Mr. Sydenham to have his preference of a jail sentence.

When asked by Judge Lowe if the reason were financial he replied it was not. It is on the principle of the thing that he intends to stand.

LEAPS FROM AUTO

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—With her mind almost a total blank as the result of a fractured skull received, according to police, when she leaped from a speeding automobile, Hazel McDuell, 20, lies in a hospital here in a state of partial amnesia. Frank McGregor is held by police, accused of driving the car from which the girl took her plunge.

Later the wedding party will be entertained at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

Miss Imler and Mr. Waterfall are to be entertained Wednesday night at a dinner party given in Whittier by Mrs. Roy Cole, nee Miss Mildred Wight, who is to attend Miss Imler as matron of honor. Mrs. Cole and Miss Imler are sorority sisters, belonging to the Sigma Kappa sorority.

Later a luncheon was served on a table pretty in pink and yellow decorations. Yellow asters and pink sweetpeas were the floral features. The birthday cake was pink with yellow candles. Mrs. Bandeaux was assisted by Mrs. Olive Barr.

Few Fish Left In Sea by This Party

Nearly 2000 pounds of mackerel, yellowtail, deep sea bass, halibut, barracuda and sharks found their way to the hooks dangled over the side of the "Lark" yesterday by members of the Exchange club on their annual ocean fishing party. The party fished several miles off the coast at Santa Monica and returned several hours before the arranged time for departure from the fishing grounds, since all members of the party declared themselves worn out pulling in fish.

The trip was arranged by Dr. W. H. Appleton, devotee of deep sea fishing. The trophy for the largest fish landed was awarded to C. M. Christy, who pulled in a sixteen-pound yellowtail. W. Claire Anspach ran him a close second with a twelve-pound halibut.

Members of the party were: Dr. Appleton, R. E. Johnston, president of the club; T. F. Culhane, secretary; W. C. Waring, C. M. Christy, W. Claire Anspach, Elwood Anspach, W. H. Daniel, O. F. Paseman, Harvey Bates, Frank Elwood, J. C. May, T. C. May, G. C. McConnell, George Mishler, John Walker, C. H. Roudebush, F. W. Stewart, Smith MacMullin, Peter Neise and Harold Nelson.

18 Accused Motorists Fail to Answer Call

There were eighteen non-appearances this morning at the "speeders' court" conducted Monday morning of every week by Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court. This means that the bailiff will have to spend city gasoline and wear out city tires chasing all over Southern California trying to serve warrants for the appearance of these law violators, who represented 20 per cent of the cases heard this morning.

Judge Lowe is highly indignant at the numberof non-appearances in his court, but his hands are tied by the state law, which does not require bail to be put up at the time of an arrest. The bailiff's experience is that many of the names and addresses given by speeders are fictitious and that hundreds slip away and are never brought to trial.

F. D. Warner of 207 West Maple street and C. Berger of 403 East Lomita avenue, charged respectively with speeding on Verdugo road and on Colorado boulevard, both requested jury trials. That of Warner was set for 9 o'clock the morning of August 8 and that of Berger for 9 o'clock the morning of September 19. A. J. Davis of 800 North Normandie street, Los Angeles, forfeited his bail of $15.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

THE MODERN TYPE

What is a beautiful woman? Today she is clear of eye and clear of skin, with a competent manner, an athletic figure, shingled hair stiffly marcelled, mannish, or rather, boyish. Not so long ago, she was large of bosom and broad of shoulder (what has become of all the perfect thirty-sixes and thirty-eights and even forties? Have they wished off all that fat because flat chests are now the vogue?) Two decades ago, waistlines 17 and 18 inches around were smart, no woman with a natural figure was considered at all attractive.

Consider the heroines of June Austin's novels, and of the Bronte's. Dark curls about thoughtful brows, or golden ringlets shake and shimmer above merry blue eyes. Eyes were lambent ("of soft radiance" explains the dictionary, I looked it up), expressions playful. Would any of those noble or coy damsels have a chance today? I'm sure not.

Judging by contemporary paintings, our forefathers had narrow ideas of beauty and the women adapted themselves well to the prevailing fashion. All the women of Charles the Second's court looked alike, all the women who surrounded Louis XIV looked alike. All the pen and ink sketches of pretty ladies in the recent '80s look alike. Don't you think so?

The moral to all of this being: If you don't happen to be of the type in vogue at the moment, take heart, fashion will come around to you. If you strive to hold in a cheery plumpness, in another ten years, your best friends will be padding to emulate your now despised figure. If your hair is beautifully and unfashionably long, in two or three years, your bobbed friends will be buying side curls and using hair tonics to get their hair long too.

Bumpy—You cannot get rid of freckles if they are natural to you. You can only bleach off the worst of them whenever they annoy you too much. If you did much bleaching or until you had entirely obliterated them even for a time, it would be at the expense of the skin.

Boy Blue—The reduction that comes through taking Turkish baths is only a temporary thing as the system makes up the loss afterward very quickly. The effective way to reduce is through diet.

You can remove the shine from your skin during the warm weather if you wipe it off occasionally with a small bit of chamois.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be asnwered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

COLLEGE BUTLER GUIDE TO CLERGY

Church Dignitaries Praise Influence Exerted by Ancient Retainer

LONDON, July 28. — Probably the greatest influence in the English church today is George. George is not an archbishop, a bishop, a canon, a dean, or even a rector. He is just a butler.

For more than fifty years George—whose other name is Bencher—has been the butler at the Church of England Training College in Oxfordshire. Practically every bishop or other high dignitary of the Church of England for half a century has come under the ministrations of George.

At the annual reunion of the college the bishop of St. Albans declared that the real work of training ministers during the last fifty years has been done by George. The bishop of Oxford described him as "the pure guarantee of stability and true conservatism."

George blushed when he heard these words of praise from the high ecclesiastical dignitaries, but he retained the modesty which is his outstanding characteristic.

tain of evidence already collected in the case.

The state made rapid progress today toward closing its case. When the noon adjournment came at 12:10, only a few witnesses remained to be examined before the case of the state against the boys is completed, and Prosecutor Crowe said he probably would conclude by t morrow.

Then "the battle of the century" between the alienists will begin—the defense to prove that, while not legally insane, the young defendants are so abnormal as to make it "criminal" to hang them; and the state contending that they are sane and responsible for their acts.

JEWISH HARBORS TO BE RESTORED

Old Palestinian Ports May Be Revived Through British Efforts

JERUSALEM, July 28.—A plea for the revival of the ancient Israelitish ports of Palestine that flourished about 500 years, beginning with the days of King Solomon, is being heard in various quarters of Palestine in connection with the contemplated construction of a modern harbor.

The old ports are Ezion-Giber and Elath, the present-day Akaba and Marashah. These ports, it is argued, served in ancient times as the trading centers with the south, Abyssinia and India.

The demand for the modern use of the ancient ports of the Gulf of Akaba is based on the assumption that one of the northern ports, either Jaffa or Haifa, will in any case be developed by the present British administration. It is not as yet known which of the two will be made the leading port—Haifa, with its natural harbor facilities, or Jaffa, which is less attractive as a port but has the advantage of a large hinterland and proximity to Jerusalem.

Plain Clothes Police To Capture Speeders

CHICAGO, July 28. — Plain-clothes detectives to stop speeding on city streets were advocated by Richard E. Kropf, Supreme Regent of the Royal Arcanum, in a safety address here.

"The driver breaking a speed law should be arrested," said Mr. Kropf, who has been tireless in his efforts to simplify traffic problems. "Speeding causes most of our accidents, and successfully curbing it will mean a long step toward reducing motor fatalities."

English Wives Form Trades Union Branch

LONDON, July 28. — A trade union for wives is the latest thing in England. At the annual conference of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen it was voted to establish a women's society, as a branch of the union, the membership of which will be composed entirely of wives of members.

Deaths and Births In One County Are Even

MARIPOSA, July 28. — The stork and the grim reaper are fighting for the supremacy in this county according to the records. CHAPTER XIII

Seated between Vi and a noisy eighteen-year-old named Harriet Hamilton, Craig felt a deep boredom seize him. Only the youngsters would dance later, and ride about on the wooden horses, and wear masks. The older crowd would play bridge for ten cents a point; "keep it low and then we all can enjoy it," Mrs. Dwyer would say. Bobby Wendell would become coarse; maids would pass liquors and whiskey and soda.

He had said, in accepting this invitation, that he was working hard, and might have to go home early. Now he decided to make his excuses, at any cost, immediately after dinner.

After all, it was something a little before ten o'clock when his car bumped over the ruts and holes in the road beyond Merchantsville, and he began to see the Mount Holly lights. Not so late, Craig reflected complacently, but that he could read and smoke for a comfortable hour in his uncle's library before going to bed.

"Hello—all right—I hear you!" he found himself shouting suddenly, rousing himself with violence. Somebody had hailed him from the side of the road. He slowed his car—stopped—a man in a chauffeur's uniform came running up to him.

"Hello, there—sorry to stop you, Mister," said this person, but we got some sort of engine trouble. How far is it to Mount Holly?"

"About a mile. That's all right—take you in," Craig said, good-naturedly, remembering now that he had passed a handsome limousine stalled beside the road some few hundred feet back. Another man now came within the range of his light: a tall, lean man in a handsome, foreign-looking fur coat—a European.

"You will take for me a message, that my friends shall not be incommoded?" asked this man, in an imperious yet courteous voice. Craig saw a young face, rather pale, with immense, deep flaming black eyes, and long, finely shaped features. He had seen this face before, he thought—where? Where? It was a strong face, clean-shaven and thin, with some odd hint of womanliness about it. The speech had the rushing, daring fluency of the north of Europe. Russian, Craig thought, or perhaps German.

"Glad to," he said, cordially, his mind already busy seeking the explanation of this man's appearance here at this hour.

Instantly the other man's face lighted brilliant, and he clasped Craig's left hand in both his own. More fluent, slightly incorrect English came in a glad rush. He was coming to see friends—old, old friends, in Mount Holly, he said. This good, hospitable gentleman would tell them that he was delayed? He had left the hotel in Philadelphia at eight—it was now almost ten o'clock.

"Let me take you, that'll be better," Craig suggested. "We can drop your man at the garage, and he can come for you later." He opened the door of the seat beside him; the stranger, pouring forth ecstatic blessings, came around the hood to join him. Who on earth in Mount Holly, Craig pondered meanwhile, who on earth——?

"I go to the Mademoiselles Collier," said his passenger, answering his thought.

"Ah-h-h!" said Craig. "But who the deuce are you?" he thought.

"You know them?" the other man asked, eagerly.

"Oh, very well! At least I know the older one," Craig amended honestly.

"I go to them," said the stranger contentedly, "they are my mother's friend. We shall talk of music together!"

"They're very keen about music, I know," said Craig, not knowing whether to be most amused, surprised, or generally confused at the position in which he found himself.

"Oh, certainly. Why not?" the foreigner said very simply, rousing himself from thought.

"They expect you, I suppose?" ventured Craig.

"Oh, certainly," the other said again. "I send them the telegram. 'I have your letter,' I say. 'I come!' But fancy to yourself, Monsieur, that I shall have this letter only yesterday. Assassins—that will not send it to me!"

He lapsed again into silence, and Craig reflected with some bewilderment upon the effect of such an arrival upon two young girls living alone. The whole thing was very odd: the hour, the man's youth and manner, and the fact that Miss Collier had said nothing this afternoon of expecting such a visitor.

The car turned into the town, slipped and crunched upon the hard-packed snow, turned out into Spy Street, and pushed its disproportionately big nose into Sugarhouse Lane. Both men got out, and Craig fumbled for the door in the brick wall.

This once opened, they saw that the little house was hospitably flooded with light. The porch door opened, golden radiance streamed forth, and as Craig and the stranger came up to the steps the former recognized Hilary, silhouetted in the stream of light, very charming and quaint in some prim little gown of black with white ruffles at her wrists and throat, and with her hands held out in welcome.

"Kronski!" she cried.

A great light broke in upon Craig's mind as he placed the man; he wondered how he could have missed the likeness before. So Miss Collier's absurd faith in Kronski was justified, after all! Perhaps these musical creatures had some understanding among themselves.

He felt himself superfluous here; but he could not turn his back upon the little drama being enacted before him.

The violinist sprang to meet Hilary, and their conversation broke into such rapid and emotional French that Craig was unable to follow it. He heard their laughter, saw their tears, and could hardly recognize, in this glowing, impetuous woman, his uncle's demure little secretary.

Presently she could give Craig a smile of greeting; everything else was forgotten between them except that this was her home and Craig her guest. He must come in—oh, and he must meet Dora!

She drew Dora from a shy conversation with Kronski: Craig had a swift impression of somebody about Vi Vanderwort's height, with Vi's appealing look, only with a freshness and youth and beauty quite unknown to Vi.

He had only time to realize an extreme surprise that here, in commonplace little Mount Holly, this lovely creature could have lived all of her eighteen years, when Hilary took them all into the big room that had once been the kitchen but that was now evidently the parlor.

It was a long, high room filled with old-fashioned comfortable furniture, and with the open fireplace of white-washed bricks still occupying most of one end. An air-tight stove, hideous but effective, had been set in the great chimney opening; Craig saw an old Dutch oven's door in the wall beside it.

"The Price She Paid" went over big on its opening last night at the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo. After a series of comedy-dramas, this strong melodramatic offering proved a sensation.

The play will continue throughout the week, states J. A. Menard, manager of the show. The tent is located between Brand boulevard and Central avenue. Special rehearsals were conducted for weeks to perfect this play and the cast shows that they have it perfectly in hand.

"The Price She Paid" will be remembered by numerous theatregoers as the great David Graham Phillips vehicle that first swept the country as a novel and then took New York by storm as a play. Phillips was shot to death some years ago in a love tangle. He was regarded as one of the most brilliant of the younger writers.

About ten days ago Harold Latter, Willard Learned, Hanson Garrett and Edwin Heacock, all of Glendale and Tropico, left La Crescenta, where the Rev. E. E. Frances had taken them in his machine, for a hike over the hills as far as Great Bear Lake. Their destination was not quite reached. However, a splendid outing was enjoyed.

A group of Glendale women, who desire to study Shakespeare during the summer, have formed a club to meet every Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. D. Yard at 129 North Maryland street.

Frank L. Muhleman of 1211 Maple street, Glendale, has consented to be a candidate before the primaries for representative from this district.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY PUFFS A PIPE

One morning, about a week after the day before yesterday, there sounded a knock at the door of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"Better let me see who it is before you open the door," whispered Nurse Jane Fuzzy as the bunny gentleman jumped out of his chair. "It might be the Bob Cat."

But it wasn't—I'm glad to say. It was Baby Bunty, the cute little rabbit girl.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" cheerily she called to the rabbit gentleman as he smiled at her. "I've come to stay a week with you," went on Baby Bunty.

"Oh, have you—well—I'm glad! said the rabbit. He wasn't exactly jolly about Bunty's visit, though he had to be polite and say so. For, as you know, Bunty was a regular little tyke! She was always chasing Uncle Wiggily or making him chase her or doing something like that.

"Well, try and be a good little rabbit girl while you're here," begged Nurse Jane, sort of making a funny face at Uncle Wiggily behind Bunty's back.

"Yes'm, I will," was the promise. Well, really, Bunty tried to be good, but it was hard work. She pulled the clock down off the shelf, she got her head caught between the legs of a chair and couldn't get loose until Uncle Wiggily helped her and then she ran out in the rain and got her paws soaking wet.

"Bunty, you had better go to bed," said Nurse Jane after supper, when the little rabbit girl wanted Uncle Wiggily to tell her six more stories, after he had already told her three. "Go to bed and sleep."

"All right," sighed Bunty. "A-ker-ker-ker-choo!" she suddenly sneezed.

"You're catching cold from getting your paws wet," said Nurse Jane and she wrapped Bunty up well in the blankets and tucked her in bed. In the middle of the night Bunty cried, and awakened Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane. "Oh, I've got such an ear ache," she wailed.

"That's from getting your paws wet," said Nurse Jane.

"Please don't say that again," begged Bunty. "Can't you do something to stop my ear ache? Can't you smoke a pipe and blow hot smoke in my ear? That's what Uncle Butter, the goat did, when I was visiting at his house."

"I don't smoke a pipe!" said Nurse Jane, indignant like.

"Then you smoke a pipe, Uncle Wiggily, and blow hot smoke in my ear and stop the ache!" begged Bunty.

"I never smoked a pipe, but I'll do anything to stop your pain, Bunty," said the rabbit gentleman. "I remember my grandfather used to smoke a pipe. Perhaps it's somewhere around the bungalow."

Uncle Wiggily found the old pipe and some tobacco. And, though he didn't like tobacco, he puffed the smoke of some in Betty's aching ear.

"Oh, it feels better already!" cried the little rabbit girl.

"Yes, and I'll feel better when I nibble your ears, Uncle Wiggily!" cried the Fuzzy Fox jumping in through an open window. He was just going to bite the bunny, but Mr. Longears took a big mouthful of smoke and puffed it into the eyes of the Fox.

"Whiff!" went the smoke into the eyes of the bad chap.

"Oh, wow! Wowchie! Gurr!" howled the Fox, and with his smarting eyes filled with tears, out of the window he leaped and ran back to his den in the woods. "Guff! Gaw! I don't like smoke!" he snarled.

"It's a good thing I had the ear ache! Isn't it?" asked Bunty, as, with her pain all gone, she went to sleep.

"Um! I guess it was—anyhow it was good I knew how to puff on a pipe!" laughed the rabbit gentleman. And if the lead pencil doesn't make black marks all over the white paper so it looks as if it had been swimming in a bottle of ink, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's ice pudding.

Acid Phosphate Aids Plants Survive Frost

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 28.—Recent experiments by soil experts at Ohio State university have resulted in important discoveries in the fortification of plants against late frost.

Announcement to this effect followed examination of tomato plants in several experimental pots at the university after the severe frost of May 22, which wiped out the tomato crops of many Ohio gardeners.

Acid phosphate, it was found, when mixed with the soil, aids the plant materially in withstanding the frost. Simultaneously, it was learned that the more manure the soil contains the heavier the frost's toll.

Some People Natural Murderers, Is Theory

LONDON, July 28.—"There seems to be a race of human beings who lay themselves out to be murdered—they are, to coin a word, 'murderees'."

This strikingly original point of view is put forward by Miss Tennyson Jesse in a book she has just published on "Murder and Its Motives." She advances the theory that "when the laws of attraction and repulsion are more fully understood than they are at present it will be discovered that murderers and 'murderees' send out wave-lengths that correspond as do the wave-lengths of wireless between two stations."

SPLIT DOUBLE AS L. A. WINS SERIES

Angels Take First, 3 to 2; Drop Second 4 to 3 by Costly Errors

By BEN McGUIRE
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Los Angeles took the series from Seattle in yesterday morning's game, winning their fourth out of six games by a score of 3 to 2, and then allowed the Indians to win in the afternoon, 4 to 3. Manager Marty Krug, Catcher Joe Jenkins and Pitcher Tom Hughes were banished for creating a near riot Saturday, it was announced. Their suspension is indefinite, according to President Harry A. Williams.

Golvin won the first game for the Angels in the last of the eleventh inning when he hit a triple and came home on Beck's infield out. Bowman won the last session with a double which scored Welch and Eldred in the eighth and he came home himself, overcoming the Angel lead.

The Tigers arrive Tuesday for some home town games.

The league-leading Seals bested the Beavers twice yesterday, 4-1 and 9-4, with Williams and Mitchell pitching for the winners.

Bryan and Shellenbach respectively led the Tigers to a double-headed victory at Sacramento, 9-0 and 7-2. Fred Mollwitz of the Solons hurt himself chasing a foul into the dugout and will be unable to go north with his team, doctors state.

Oakland and Salt Lake split the double-header yesterday at Salt Lake, the first game going to the Bees, 14 to 4, and the second to the Oaks, 5 to 4.

Firpo, Wills Battle Thursday, Sept. 11

NEW YORK, July 28. — Luis Firpo and Harry Wills will clash on Thursday night, September 11, at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, under plans being completed by Promoter Tex Rickard. The winner will be matched with Jack Dempsey.

The fight originally scheduled for September 5, was postponed so that the Prince of Wales might attend, Rickard announced. The prince is to be a spectator at the international polo matches at Meadowbrook, which will end September 10.

Rickard's announcement followed a conference with Firpo and a telephone conversation with Paddy Mullins and his Senegambian fighter, now in training in Southampton, L. I. Incidentally, Mullins told Rickard heavy wagers had been placed at Southampton with Wills, the favorite, at 4 to 5.

Three Angel Players Suspended by Prexy

For their participation in Saturday's near-riot at Washington park, Manager Marty Krug, Pitcher Tom Hughes and Catcher Joe Jenkins of the Angels have been indefinitely suspended by President Harry Williams.

Umpire Ed Finney turned in a report adverse to the players involved, and their suspensions followed. Jenkins and Krug were ordered off the field in the ninth inning of Saturday's game, but Hughes was allowed to stay. Hughes' offense came when he dusted off the plate with his cap, much to the enjoyment of the 7500 fans present and to Finney's discomfiture.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Yankees lost a chance to regain the lead when the White Sox scored four runs in the ninth and nosed them out, 7 to 6. Hoyt and Shawkey failed to stem the tide.

The lowly Athletics took the Tigers into camp, 4 to 2.

The race tightened when Washington beat Cleveland 4 to 3, and tied the Yanks for second place. Ogden won his eighth game since joining the Senators.

The Browns beat the Red Sox, 6 to 4. It was Danforth's twelfth victory of the season.

Virgil Barnes held the Cardinals safe and the Giants won, 6 to 4, increasing their lead to seven games, while the Cubs were idle.

Dazzy Vance pitched Brooklyn to a 5 to 1 victory over Cincinnati for his sixteenth win of the season, but the Reds took the second game of a double header, 9 to 1.

The other National league clubs were idle.

SNODGRASS DEFEATED

NEW YORK, July 28.—A. D. Gerald Patterson, captain of the Australian Davis cup team, won the metropolitan tennis championship at the Crescent Athletic club, Brooklyn. He defeated Harvey Snodgrass of Los Angeles in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

A Japanese concern plans to put out a line of footwear under the trade mark "Harding."

GLENDALE CHAMPS DEFEAT GARDENA

White Sox Get Consecutive Victory No. 25; Annex Contest 9 to 1

The well-discussed reputation of "No-Hit" Hilton, pitching ace for the Gardena team of the Bay District league, caused no worry among the White Sox players yesterday afternoon, when the Glendale champions fell on Hilton's offerings and batted out a 9-to-1 victory, getting ten hits.

It was consecutive victory No. 25 for the home town lads, and again proved that the Glendale team is one of the strongest semi-pro clubs in the southwest, worthy of meeting any foe and entitled to much better support from Glendalians than they are receiving.

Stars in yesterday's game would be hard to pick out. Every pale hose wearer played the game hard and did his share of bringing home the Gardena scalp. Reiger, who has hurled the White Sox to a number of victories the last few weeks, held the Gardena team to six hits. Shields rapped out four clean hits, three of them being two-baggers. Shellenback did his share with the stick, getting a couple of doubles, while Hirigoyen added one extra-base bingle to the collection.

Reiger Fans Nine

Hilton allowed but one pass during the afternoon's entertainment, while Reiger issued only one. Reiger had the edge on the strike-outs, getting nine, while Hilton was credited with eight.

Leaders In Builders' League Following Footsteps Of Townsmen

Harris & Hull, Glendale's entry in the Builders' league, is following in the footsteps of their fellow townsmen and ball players, the Glendale White Sox, for the builders' team is leading the league, and has chalked up seven straight victories, winning Saturday's game from the Kerckoff-Cuzner team, 15 to 7.

Saturday's game marked the end of the first half of the builders' schedule. The game was played at the White Sox ball park on San Fernando road. La Belle, pitching for the winners, struck out nine in addition to getting three hits.

Unsuitable Shoes Are Cause of Many Ills

LONDON, July 28.—Unsuitable shoes are responsible for one-third of the ills of women, according to Dr. Ethel Bentham, a leading worker in the ranks of British Labor women. Dr. Bertham said ill-fitting shoes cause bulging, swollen ankles, misshapen calves and flattened toes of the high-heeled girl of today.

LOOK FOR EARLY TRADE INCREASE

With Candidates Nominated, Steel Man Predicts Business Revival

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 28.—Now what the two great political parties of the country have selected their candidates for the presidency of the United States the people may sit back comfortably and wait for business conditions to display signs of reviving.

This is the belief of J. A. Campbell, president of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, the third largest steel maker in the United States.

"With the presidential nominations behind us, it may give some encouragement to the investor to let loose some of the money so necessary to prosperity and lifting the slight nation-wide depression," Campbell said.

"Regardless, however, of the political trend, business must be better in the very near future than it has been in the last thirty days," he continued, "because the country, even under the present uncertain conditions, actually needs more material."

San Jose Race Fatal To Hollywood Driver

SAN JOSE, July 28.—A. L. Mulford of Hollywood, automobile race driver, was fatally injured when his car crashed through the fence on the Alum Rock avenue speedway here yesterday afternoon, rolled into the ditch and burst into flames. Mulford, who was thrown clear of the car, was picked up unconscious and rushed to the San Jose hospital, where he died an hour later.

The crash occurred during the third lap of the feature event of the day, the forty-lap automobile race. Mulford was fighting to retain his place in the front of five other cars. His car appeared to hover erratically for a few seconds along the upper edge of the track as he entered the north turn, then crashed through the fence.

GILROY, July 28.—Mrs. John Elsbach of King City while visiting in Gilroy, took luncheon in a cafe, forgetting when she left to pick up her bag containing money and jewelry valued at more than $6000.

Not until the visitor reached King City did she discover her loss. The distracted woman telephoned to City Marshal George Easton, who found the valuables still on the table, where they had remained for several hours untouched.

BASEBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about baseball—
If you want a rule interpreted—
If you want to know anything about a play or player—
Write John B. Foster, the man who helped make the rules under which the game is played today. If you want a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed, envelope. Otherwise your question will be answered in this column.

Address: John B. Foster, Special Baseball Correspondent of the Evening News, 811 World Building, New York.

QUESTION—Just what is meant by the squeeze play?

ANSWER—If a runner is on third and the batter bunts when the runner starts for home plate the batter is trying to "squeeze" the runner in. Some times it works and more often it doesn't. A smart nine can beat it.

QUESTION—Batter knocks a high foul behind third base. Third baseman leans over three tiers of seats and catches the ball. Umpire calls the man out, but the batter protests that the ball was not caught in the field of play. Was the batter right?

ANSWER—He was not. The ball is in play if it can be reached by a fielder who is on fair ground.

QUESTION—On looking over a summary of a Toronto score I saw this: Passed ball, Vincent". What does it mean?

ANSWER—It means that Vincent catcher for Toronto dropped a pitched ball on which the base runner of an opposing team gained a base.

QUESTION—Batter hits ball to the shortstop who fumbles it, but the shortstop gets the man at first. Would you call this an error or not?

ANSWER—It is never an error if the shortstop recovers a fumble in time to throw the batter out.

British Tax Returns Reveal Millionaires

LONDON, July 28.—Statistics issued by the British income tax authorities show that England has her own coterie of millionaires. Under English tax laws, persons with over $10,000 yearly income are assessed with super tax as well as with income tax. According to income tax authorities, there are 84,598 such people, and the total income on which they are assessed is more than $2,588,000,000. There are 137 persons with an income of more than $500,000 each, and 127 with over $375,000 each. Two hundred and seventy-eight persons have incomes of over $250,000 each; 291 of over $200,000 each, and 1081 with over $125,000 each.

SIX TOWNS CLAIM FAMOUS REDSKIN

Birthplace of Indian Orator Of Revolutionary Days Left In Doubt

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 28.—Homer, whose birthplace is claimed by many cities, has an American parallel today in Red Jacket, orator and chief of the Wolf clan of the Seneca tribe of Iroquois, who is claimed as a native son by no less than six central New York villages, including Canogo, which has the edge.

Red Jacket was born about 1757. In civil life his name was Otetiani, meaning "Always Ready." On his elevation as chief in the ranks of the Senecas he received the name "Sa-go-ye-watha," meaning "He Keeps Them Awake," a designation, according to popular belief, having reference to his ability as an orator.

The name "Red Jacket" was given him during the American Revolution by the British army commanders, who furnished the chief with a number of bright red jackets to hold his friendship.

GAY LIFE LEADS TO CRIME, CLAIM

Desire for 'Good Time' and Its High Cost Factors In Lawlessness

NEW YORK, July 28.—Crime is on the increase in New York.

Prohibition, say experts, has nothing to do with it, one way or another.

Auburn M. Birdsall, head of the claim department of the National Surety company of New York, which annually bonds thousands of employes, says it is due to the fact that young people are more prone than ever to live beyond their means.

District Attorney Joab H. Banton gives an economic reason—growth of population. His theory is that there is a certain set percentage of criminals in every average community, and with the increase in population there is a proportionate increase in crime.

Both are agreed that 80 per cent of the crime of today can be traced to:

The dazzle of Broadway and what it represents to the callow and impressionable mind.

The ever-mounting cost of what youth is pleased to call "a good time."

The high cost of amusements, taxicabs and other factors which enter into what the modern young woman considers entertainment.

LAND OF ROMANCE IS LOCATED HERE

Southern California Forms Mecca for Many From Other States

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Romance land—that is Southern California! The mere mention of names in the daily report of marriage licenses means nothing, absolutely nothing, to the reading public, but behind the scenes in the marriage license clerk's office at the county court house here, or in San Bernardino, or Riverside, or Santa Ana, or San Diego, the whole gamut of human emotions may be found throbbing in the certificates which permit the man to take the girl of his heart as his bride.

Take a current list of licenses issued here, for instance. The girl comes from Chickasha, Oklahoma, and she is only 21. Her husband has just passed his twenty-third birthday. Glowing, full of confidence, courageous in their plunge into the sea of matrimony, they are the ideal couple, it would appear to the casual onlooker. He is making good wages. She is already in love with the country.

Next on the list is a rancher from Browning, Montana, who has come to claim the girl of his dreams and return with her to the ranch. She is used to range life, having been reared on a ranch and gladly will she join him "out where the west begins."

An Elopement?

Two more prospective husbands hail from Dallas, Texas; a girl comes from Rochelle, Illinois; another couple come here from the oil fields to be married in the city; and Los Angeles is the trysting place for still another couple, the man coming from San Francisco and the girl from Fresno. It looks like an elopement—who knows, and why ask?

But, climb a flight of stairs and walk into the hall of records where the county clerk holds forth. There you find another part of life's drama being enacted. It is the divorce mill. Seldom does a day pass without a score or more complaints being filed. Desertion, mental abuse, physical cruelty, moral turpitude are all listed.

Just as the budding romance finds heaven here, the blighted rose finds this garden spot a haven of forgetfulness. From all parts of the east and middle west and north the couples come; sometimes they come singly, for the legal action which leads to separation and another opportunity for happiness.

LIFE'S DRAMA IS ENACTED IN L. A.

Most Original Showplace of World Is Streets of Cosmopolitan City

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—William Shakespeare placidly remarked in the course of work in one drama that "All the world's a stage." Yet one pays high prices to attend the theatres and finds less entertainment there than on the streets of Los Angeles.

The streets of New York, the Limehouse lights of London, the Montmartre of Paris are illustrious stages upon which plebeian and prince, pauper and plutocrat walk. They are famous in song and story.

As the years roll by more will be written of incidents in Los Angeles, most cosmopolitan of all cities—the most original showplace in the world. Even San Francisco pales in comparison with local color, and Gotham is outdone in the daring of the denizens.

Dresses On Display

Seventh street in the afternoon here is ablaze with the style of the day. Sleeveless frocks, riding habits, hiking togs, uncovered bobbed tresses, some shingled, some boy style, hats of latest modes, neckpieces such as would be shown at Auteil—everything that reveals, conceals and enhances the feminine charm is on display, not in the windows, but in the streets.

Then you turn from the sublime to the ridiculous as it is seen on Spring street. Take whiskers for example, the Van Dyke, the full beard, the proverbial mutton chop fringe, the drooping mustache, the Chaplinesque tooth brush, the curled and pointed German type, the French goatee, all pass in review.

All Classes Mingle

And on Main street what an array of hats and clothes. Words would fail to cover the various subjects in anything short of a chapter. And as for the people—you will meet the Chinese woman in sack and trousers, the diminutive Japanese, the uncouth Hindu of lower caste, the Armenian refugee, the Russian Jew, Turkish Greeks, Mexican laborers, pleasant Polish peasant types, and no small number of the American negro, all mixing and milling around in the mad scramble for a livelihood.

Just an incident describing the street urchins, who sell papers, shine shoes and otherwise filch for a more or less honest dime. Last night, at Sixth and Broadway, two newsboys were calling "Here puppy" as a packing box wiggled around on the walk. A crowd collected to see the dog emerge from durance vile. They were due for a surprise. From under the strawboard carton emerged a little boy, no bigger than a minute, whose whines and barks had elicited such sympathy as to make him the recipient for nickels and dimes.

Peoria May Appoint Man to Catch Pigeons

PEORIA, Ill., July 28.—Peoria may have an official pigeon catcher, as well as a dog catcher, if a movement begun in the City Council succeeds. The council passed a resolution to amend the ordinance concerning the prohibition of domestic animals running at large to include pigeons.

Dying, Scratches Will On Empty Tobacco Can

AUSTIN, Nev., July 28.—While life was ebbing from mortal wounds received in a pistol duel with Thomas Brackney over grazing rights, Vigenti Arroti, Basque sheepherder, managed to scratch his will on a tobacco can with a sharp instrument. His last testament bequeathed his property to his father and mother in Spain. The tobacco can containing the inscription was brought to Austin by Sheriff Parker.

Shortly after Arroti had completed his will beneath the rays of the desert sun, assistance arrived and he was carried over to the mountains fifteen miles and brought to Austin in the sheriff's car. He died almost immediately on arrival.

Attorneys say the brief will can be easily read and will prove valid.

On hot and sultry days of summer the energy of people is reduced 40 per cent and this lowers the mental and physical efficiency that much, say scientists.

CHEST AUDITORS' REPORT APPROVED

Expert to Be Employed to Conduct Campaign for Funds In November

The directors of the Glendale Welfare Chest, meeting at the Chamber of Commerce this morning, approved the report of Olin & Hutchinson, accountants, who were employed to examine the books for the period from November 21, 1923, to July 25, 1924.

The report shows that, of the 1924 budget calling for $40,000, the sum of $21,807.91 was subscribed, and of this amount, $16,194.16 has been paid in in cash, leaving a balance of $5613.75 still delinquent. Out of the $16,194.16 actualy paid in, $14,625 has been paid out to the various beneficiaries, and $944.40 has been used in administrative expenses, leaving a balance of $624.75 in the bank.

Dealing with the amount that has been pledged, but that is still unpaid, the report shows that 317 subscribers out of the 1850 have failed, either in whole or in part, to pay the pledges that they made during last year's drive. Of this number there are 155 who have not made any payments whatever.

May Hire Collector

It is suggested that a collector be employed on a commission basis to collect the amounts overdue, as Olin & Hutchinson believe that only a small percentage of the outstanding pledges will be collected otherwise. In cases where those who have pledged assistance have moved from their old residences and it is found to be impossible to locate them, it is suggested that such pledges be cancelled in order to arrive at an approximate estimate of the amount pledged that may be depended upon.

Secretary Burton McGinnis was instructed to communicate with an expert Community Chest campaign manager, in order to secure his services in organizing the drive that is to be made here from November 10 to 15. The contract for this expert is now being prepared on lines that the directors believe will be satisfactory.

A committee on committees was named, consisting of Roy L. Kent, chairman; W. H. Daniel, R. F. Kitterman, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward.

KAFATERIA SHOE STORE HAS SALE

Unusually Low Prices Draw Crowds; Make Purchases In Various Lines

Fine merchandise at unusually low prices is being offered at the big sales event now under way at the Nafateria Shoe Store at 126 North Brand boulevard.

Sidney Glass, owner and buyer for the Kafateria chain of stores, says:

"This is the time of year when most stores are putting on clearance sales, cleaning house in other words, but this sale is different. We don't ask you to come down and buy the leftovers, but we offer you fresh, clean merchandise at a less price than out of date merchandise is usually sold for.

The sale has just started reports state and there have been crowds visiting the store and making many purchases in the various lines. Many people, it is stated, are taking advantage of the bargains and are stocking up with shoes for both fall and winter wear.

Sycamore Canyon Case Is Set for August 1

Glendale was represented by Ray L. Morrow, city attorney and acting city manager, at a hearing this morning before the State Railroad commission, in Los Angeles, of an application of the Sycamore Canyon Water company for dissolution, on the grounds that the company is unable to operate at a profit.

The hearing was continued over until Friday morning, August 1, when Mr. Morrow will again be present, in the interest of this city and the people just outside the city limits, who are served by the Sycamore Canyon Water company.

Babies And Pretty Girls In Contests For Honors On Carnival's Last Day

Featured by a baby show in which Elizabeth Nicolai, 16-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Nicolai of 1131 East Elk street, won first place, and a popularity contest for queen, in which Audrey Haynes was declared winner, with more than 11,000 votes, the carnival and industrial show sponsored by the Thursday Afternoon club at South Brand boulevard and San Fernando road, closed Saturday night.

Live enthusiasm and hearty cooperation marked the participation of the club women in the show, which was in progress for a week. The Matthews' Circus & Fiesta company furnished the equipment and many of the attractions, and while the club women were not able to give a definite financial statement today, they were most profuse in their appreciation of the fine spirit shown by the Matthews company and also the hearty support received from Glendale merchants and others.

Babies in Limelight

The first important event of the closing day, Saturday, was the baby show, at which Dr. J. E. Whitlow, assisted by Mrs. Whitlow, served as examiner. There were seventeen babies measured, examined and weighed and they attracted much attention from the crowds in the big tent.

Elizabeth Nicolai, 16 months' old, won first prize with a percentage of 91 and two-thirds; second place went to Betty Jean Rich, 2 and a half years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rich of 1313 San Fernando road, with a percentage of 90 and two-thirds; third place was awarded to Betty Jean Bliven, 3 months, 1 week, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bliven, with a percentage of 90.

Other Entrants

Babies entered in the contest, not previously mentioned, were Marian Lee Hanson, 10 and a half months, 111 East Chestnut street; Mary Frances Board, 16 months, 1135 Justin avenue; Wayne Franklin Van Garder, 6 months, 5 days, 500 Raleigh street; Natalie Gersha Gould, 1 year, 8 months, La Crescenta; Thomas Claire Badger, twenty-one and a half months, 1850 South Brand boulevard; Colbert Henry Eyraud, 2 years, 9 months, 467 Ivy street; Sheila Matier, 16 months, 616 North Columbus avenue; William Darden, 2 and a half years, 200 East Cypress street; Marguerite Pearl Keidel, 4 months, 1305 South Glendale avenue; Virginia Yvonne Harwood, 3 months, 3 weeks, 811½ East Orange Grove avenue; John Robert McCracken, 16 months, 325 McHenry street; Jack Howe, 16 months, 211 East Laurel street; Dorothy Helen Light, 1 year, 2 weeks, 535 West Oak street; Mildred De Armand, 17 months, 3037 Roslyn street, Los Angeles.

Audrey Haynes Wins

Much interest centered around the closing of the popularity contest for queen Saturday night. Audrey Haynes was declared queen of the show with more than 11,000 votes. Marjorie Gilhuly took second place with over 7000 votes; and Alice Castile third with over 7000 votes.

Miss Haynes was presented with a diamond ring, while Miss Gilhuly received fifty dollars in gold.

Entertainment Saturday night was made by Frances Ennis' five-piece jazz orchestra; and Scotch numbers by Alex McDougall and Davina Woods.

Alex McDougall played on the bagpipes and Davina Woods gave a Scotch dance. They also gave a bagpipe duet number.

Mr. Matthews gave a final trapeze performance.

Wins Set of Dishes

The dishes given in free drawing by the Good Housekeeping shop of 140 South Brand boulevard, were won by Mrs. W. H. Davies of 3722 Seneca avenue. The set of white dishes was won by Margaret Phelan. Mrs. Julia Messman of Vine street won the four packages of bacon given at one concession.

Announcement is made that the drawing of tickets given away by the Washer Wilson was held today at the store at 205 East Broadway. The first ticket drawn will be placed in the window and if the owner does not claim it, a second ticket will be drawn tomorrow, and so on until a winner is declared.

Sympathy Surprises Victim of Explosion

VISALIA, Cal., July 28.—Earl Wortman, who has been fighting forest fires around these parts, can't understand some people.

Only the other day a few sticks of dynamite—just fifteen or so—chanced to explode while he was sitting on them and gave him quite a little ride in the air.

People were quite solicitous when he landed, expecting to see a hospital—or morgue—case.

"The dynamite didn't hurt me. But the hard ground where I landed kinda knocked me out," Wortman said, much to the surprise of his would-be mourners.

THREE MEN HURT IN LIQUOR FIGHT

Officers Caught In Fire of Posse and Smugglers Suffer Wounds

PACIFIC GROVE, Cal., July 28.—Three men were wounded, two men arrested and twenty-six cases of Scotch whiskey confiscated near here early today when two posses of offcers ambushed rum runners landing a cargo of liquor near the Moore shipyards.
